The construction of a mosque in the Ground Zero.

Manu Rodríguez. From Europe (18/08/10).

*Posture Obama favorable to the future construction of a large mosque in the Ground Zero (on behalf of democracy and freedom, of course) is an insult and an outrage. The magnitude of this offense goes beyond the particular case.

The announcement was made at a dinner given to the prominent Muslims with regard to the beginning of Ramadan.

It is difficult to imagine the pain, rage, and outrage the American people, and in particular New Yorkers. They must have felt abused, abandoned, and betrayed by his President.

Furthermore, disgusts clumsily misleading speech rhetoric (as if we were idiots), because, as already noted, is not ban them Muslims the construction of a mosque (although why not?), but the chosen place. Ground Zero will be crowded with Muslims triumphant and arrogant, precisely. Such a proposal should be rejected with horror and indignation.

It is sad, very sad, this affair. It is a new triumph of Islam in the free world. And a shocking triumph.

Long ago, and with regard to the 'Alliance of Civilizations', wrote this:

"The 'Alliance of Civilizations' is folly, and a senseless that among us promotes; a blind instrument in the hands of the enemy, in the hands of Islam.

Such invention, in the present circumstances, cannot be work more than a stupid, or a cheater. Lies, or itself lies, or both.

Apparently, is a joint idea of Zapatero and Erdogan; the 'brilliant' idea."

(There have the stupid and the cheat).

The same can be said of Obama. It is a stupid, or is a trickster; or both.

'Can we get to the White House?' 'Yes, we can'. It is obvious that Islam has crept into the White House, and that Muslim background of the current President should have been taken into account by the population and American voters. Southern Europe we clear it is rule of survival the not rely never, but never, a Muslim (of a 'Moor', as we say around here).

Fortune, however, that the Democrats will lose the next elections and the mosque in the ground zero may not be built. (This is not so much a fortune as a desire and a remainder trust in human beings).

This event could well be a historic shows the scope of the 'taqiya', lie, of the dissimulation. Of 'holy' lies, as conceives it a Muslim (for the greater glory of Allah, and Islam). They have taken you the hair not only Americans but all the free world.

We are not at war against a handful of terrorists, but against the Islamic world. The Islamic world is at war against the free world from decades ago. I don't know when will find our politicians, and our people. In the meantime we do not know but losses. Until when?

*Democracy and freedom is the wildcard used by this crowd of Asian and African Muslim who is settling and imposing unwanted and undesirable presence in much of the world free. Once installed, and confident in his number, spit on our democracies, require the Sharia for all people (Muslims or not), and send to the freedom to hell ('Freedom go to Hell').

Are people that lately it has heard them say things that "Islam is part of the Swedish culture"; neither more nor less. No indecent or any shame. It is public and notorious their complete disregard for the truth (in this case, historical). Every reason to suppose that they planning for the future (Islam 'will form part' of Swedish culture... 'by the good, or bad').

More about Islam and the construction of a mosque in the Ground Zero.

Manu Rodríguez. From Europe (25/08/10).

*I am afraid that also in the USA have been lost lucidity, courage and dignity; not only in Europe. It seems that the imbecility, weakness, and cowardice have settled in the land of the free world and not only Muslims. Perhaps one thing responds to another.

I don't know what we hope to confront determined and bravely this absurd and scary enemy of our way of life that is Islam; to eject of our lands both Muslims (as individuals 'non grata') and own Islam (Quran, Sharia, and others), to which we could ban, with our laws in hand, as we do with Nazism.

Given current circumstances (our conflicts in various parts of the world with Muslim countries) we must deny access, at the Muslims residing in our lands and both converts native as to the non-native already nationalized, at the army, security forces, and the rest of civil institutions.

It is important to prevent the Muslim proselytizing to continue its work on our lands. This proselytism deprives to the country of their citizens, think of this. A convert to Islam is a citizen lost in his own country, his own blood, and his own people, because from the moment of his conversion due to newly acquired faith; now has new nation, new family, and new fellow citizens (the Islamic nation and the Muslim brothers). We are talking of treason, sedition; and instigation to them.

We should pay attention to these clear and truthful voices emanating from the Islamic area (Ibn Warraq or Wafa Sultan), and which tell us without fainting on dangerous Islam. The latter recently provided us data coming from the Center for Studies of the Political Islam (www.politicalislam.com) where we can find the figures of various non-Islamic religions martyrs killed, since the advent of Islam thousand four hundred years ago, for the Muslims and on behalf of his sinister faith (270 million of 'Pagans', 60 millions of Christians, 80 million of Hindus, 10 million of Buddhists, and 120 million 'Animists' African enslaved). This criminal harassment to other faiths and cultures still remains in the area of domain of Islam (Islamized countries, or 'submitted'). This macabre list does not mention the Jewish martyrs or to thousands or millions of Muslims (it's Millennial and also criminal discord between Muslim sects, which extend up to the present; and that we are witnessing all the inhabitants of the planet, and every day, on our news).

*In the interrogations (already topical and rancid, and nothing intelligent) made by Imam Feisal Abdul Rauf (the promoter of the project dia-bolic of the mosque in the Ground Zero) in a recent interview (why a suicidal Palestinian who kills innocent people is called 'terrorist' and if USA or its allies bombed by mistake a building in which die civilians is called 'collateral damage'?), there is to say that he responds when distinguishes, conceptually, between intentionality (of killing innocent) and the no-intentionality (accident, mistake; but also information maliciously false).

I would add that we could also asked him to that prefer that we denote to the violent acts committed by Muslims in the lands of the free world and in the name of Islam, acts of terrorism, acts of war, or collateral damage?

As of 'violent acts' I mean to the intimidation of the civilian population and street violence (strategies followed recently in Europe, where foreign Muslim population exceeds already the very worrying figure thirty million -and I speak only of the legal), and the bloody attacks (these internationally and, in most cases, on clearly civilian targets).

Another 'pearl' of the Imam Rauf is as follows: "Seven centuries before the Declaration of Independence was written the Sharia law, which was intended to protect life, property, family, religion, mental wellbeing. This is the reason that affirms (who?) that USA is in fact a State in accordance with the Sharia". Those are the barbarities that we listen, and then repeat Muslims. It is the art of confused, misrepresent.

I ask for, please, to the historians, political scientists, and philosophers (of history, law, or language...) Americans that clarify this crude sophism more own an ignorant or a liar who someone lover of good and of truth. It is the duty of the countries free 'intelligence' precisely ensured their traditions (policies, legal... cultural in broad sense), as well as protect their people from similar conceptual traps; also the unmasked and silence the mouth once these ominous and insidious preachers of submission, violence, lie, and death. I ask for to the intellectuals of the free world to take part in this cold war (verbal, conceptual), and to take part truth (historical or philosophical); not leaving, please, to their respective peoples in these serious moments of confusion spiritual.

The Sharia is a terrifying legal text that crashes with our sensitivity and our legal traditions all. It is at the Antipodes of the American Declaration of Independence, or of the French Declaration on Human Rights, somewhat later, which are political, legal and philosophical sources of contemporary democracies in the world free.

*To finish. I had hoped that, with regard to the future mosque at Ground Zero, were million the Americans launched the street to prevent such monstrous project. But, judging from what we have seen, have hardly been a few hundred people have expressed against (members of the estimable SIOA and people directly affected by the attack of 9/11). And this happens in the mother country modern of democracy and freedom.

This weak popular response (which also implies indifference or lack of solidarity) reminds our effective decay; the decline in the world free. We sell off our heritage; our current economic, political, social, cultural status... that cost our immediate ancestor's blood, sweat, and tears.

Shame, shame, shame.

Best regards,

For some, for others; and for the most high.

Manu Rodríguez. From Europe (03/09/10).

*This is for you; for the vain, ignorant, confused and hypocritical leftists and progressives. Find out you one time that there is not, in this moment, another racism, or fascism, or ultra-right in Europe or in the US (and worldwide) that Islam and foreign Muslims (the 'umma') that towards us floods.

You lack of shame and truth when to yourselves you denominate anti-fascists. Furthermore, your language is such insidious as the Muslims themselves; you use, like them, the wildcard 'democracy and freedom' to thrive in our free societies; and also, like them, to the people who complain about the progress and the intolerant and intolerable behavior of the 'umma', you accuses, how not, of racists, anti-democratic, fascists, and ultra-rights. You try so to disarm, conceptually, to the only defenders of democracy and liberty in our lands. You are a disgrace to these fine concepts, as well as for all those who propound them and defended with his own life, which they will shudder with horror before your stupidity, and your dangerous behavior. You have chosen to our enemies, you have chosen our evil. You are the shame of the free world.

You are blind, hypocrites, vain, yea; ignorant, unconscious, unreflecting; clumsy, ill-fated. You are 'useful stupid' in the service of Islamic totalitarianism in the free world; and if you dislike this epithet, you will prefer perhaps that you being considered aware accomplices of this fascism is coming, this threat for everybody, of this terrifying ideology that is Islam?

What is your attitude? Is afraid you to fraud Muslims if you cold-shoulder to them; afraid you that not to be considered longer 'Democrats' and 'good people'? You are most concerned his opinion about you than your own brothers and countrymen? Silly, they blackmail it morally at you; a trick such old! You are really stupid.

I don't already know what to think of you, nor what to say to you; reflecting you on your sad role in the historical circumstances that we live. Awake. Don't continue contributing to our, and your, destruction. You don't play another role, at present moments, that of traitors (conscious or unconscious). This is the memory that will remain of you.

*I'm Manu, the lover of the virginal Aurora; the enamored of the daughter of Heaven.

Ushas, Eos; Urvashi, Euryphaessa; Europe, Eurynome, Eurycleia, Eurydice (oh!)... heteronymous of Aurora (in the Indo-European traditions).

The Aurora is revealing of the cosmic order, of truth, of being; announces the clarity and the new day. It is Aletheia. It is the Aurora of luminous members.

*Oh, Alba! Don't forsake me, don't disappear of my life. What retains you; who retains you?

Alba stopped, prevented; gloomy clouds hide your splendor. There is no light; there is no sun; there is no day. Morbid, oppressive atmosphere. Sultriness. Stagnant air. I'm discouraged.

*I invoke the breeze, and the morning winds. I invoke the peoples of the free world; to the men and women of the free world; to the futures; to the adolescent troops. Blowing blessed; clearing the horizon!

I'm here, waiting a clear, diurnal, luminous, blue-white front; an international front against the tenebrous Islam; a front constituting of Indo-European, Asian, African peoples... still free.

I speak to everybody on the final battle; the battle between light and darkness; the battle between freedom and servitude.

The tenebrous they can't win the match; not one more time, not again. What would become of humanity, what would become our future?

*I speak to 'That' what rule the destiny; until when we are pending, until when hide us your designs, until when your silence? I speak to you, heavenly Father/Mother; until when?

The shadow moves everywhere staining and obscuring your wonderful creation. It's the somber Islam; the somber 'umma'. We rush towards the abyss, submission, death and oblivion. Wake up, please, these peoples yours; dispels darkness, that clear up the morning, that come the new day. Don't let our defeat one more time. Not forsake us.

This is my prayer; this is my petition.

*Mosques and Islamic cultural centers in non-Muslim countries are political centers, ideological training centers, proselytism and propaganda centers... and a basin of attraction for all stateless and infidels (to his own people, to his own culture, to their own roots) of the host country. Ultimately, these centers are tools for disintegrating the autochthonous cultures.

Universal religious ideologies are against particular cultures of peoples. The expansion of these ideologies on the planet has meant the loss of numerous cultures in Asia, Europe, Africa, the Americas... I am talking about Hinduism, Buddhism, Christianity, and Islam, fundamentally. Note their respective areas of domain.

I remind everybody the deformation or semi-destruction of the pre-Buddhist Tibetan culture, the destruction of the ancient Egyptian culture, of the Persian pre-Islamic culture, of the Greek, of the Roman; of the Celtic, Slavic and Germanic cultures...; of 'animist' African cultures, of Native American cultures... The spiritual and cultural alienation on the planet is quite general. Barely there are people who retain their autochthonous and ancestral cultures as well as the link with their own ancestors. And all this succeeded it the priestly caste Christian, Muslim, or Buddhist, and in the name of Justice, freedom, or love, by the way most insidious and brazen, abusing the privileges granted to these undesirable guests by their hosts noble.

These ideologies are called themselves universal religions of 'release' or 'salvation', which is cynicism and cruelty, therefore not come but to destroy or annihilate own, and impose alien; and so that the different priestly castes, foreign originally, reach power; and these are, unfortunately, final results from the whole affair ugly.

Destruction of memory is essential in these ideologies. The 'universal' 'message' abolishes the cultures and traditions 'particular', which are native and ancestral. It is obvious that in this 'sleight of hand' disappear of the memory of peoples their own cultures and their own ancestors; that are, besides, brand as 'satanic' or 'devil'. This is the spiritual alienation of which I speak.

Individuals and peoples Christianized, Islamized and others, could look back on their environment ethnic, cultural, and geographical. What do you know about their ancestors pre-Buddhist, pre-Hindus, pre-Christians, or pre-Islamic? Muslims, for example, when they think of ancestors relate to the period of the first Caliphs (Arabs), and this is the case in Indonesia, Egypt, India, or anywhere on the planet Islamized. This is a sample of destruction of memory. And this that I say about of the Islamized peoples we can say it likewise of Christianized peoples.

The theme of Christian, Buddhist, or Islamist proselytizing in different Nations and cultures is thus more serious than it at first sight might seem. Indeed, the proselytism of any universal ideology should be prohibited in different villages. We must not forget that, ultimately, is an ethnic culture that expands (Jewish (Christianity), Arabic Islamic, or Indian) to the detriment of the others.

Unfortunately cannot retrieve destroyed by these ideologies throughout the time in different peoples; not to amend such bio-cultural disaster due to the massive destruction of documents, monuments and others, on behalf of the Jewish-Christian God, of Muhammad God, or 'spiritual' Hindu or Buddhist principles. Parse the global landscape; the chaos, confusion (spiritual, cultural), and destruction irreparable; the ominous legacy of these ideologies.

Most of the peoples of the planet we have lost the link with our ancestors, with our genius, with our ancestral cultures. Christians think in Abraham, or Moses; Muslims in Muhammad and the first Caliphs (and not only the salaphists); and in the same way the Hindus, or Buddhists with their respective 'patriarchs'. Prevail thus ancestors Jews, Christians, Arabs, or Indians over the autochthonous. This means that multitude of individuals, peoples and cultures, have been deleted from the tree of life as if it had never been. This is bio-cultural crime committed by these ideologies from their appearance, and which continue to be committed with impunity; what is theirs is the cultural genocide.

From an anthropological and philosophical, but also biological point of view, all this annihilation make impossible to reconstruction of tree of the peoples and cultures of the world, that is also the tree of life, the purest tree.

This theme saddens me and scandalize. That's enough. They are not only involutive or regressive ideologies; are also alienating, dangerous, and destructive.

Manu

On the awakening of the Americans.

Manu Rodríguez. From Europe (10/09/10).

*The distinction which aims to introduce Mr. Pipes ('Islam' (or Muslims) versus 'Islamism') in his article 'Americans Wake Up to Islamism' has nothing to do with the reality within the Islamic area, such and how it can be seen every day on our news; and I fear that it will become a new conceptual weapon in the hands of the Muslims to operate in the free world; to continue confusing and misleading to the citizens and the political class in the free world; to gain time and to continue thriving (demographic, political, economic, culturally...) and multiplying their signs in the free world; to follow distorting it and disintegrating it without it nothing nor nobody (or laws nor men) stopped them, ultimately.

Islam is Quran, Hadiths, Sharia; Islamism is Quran, Hadiths, Sharia; a Muslim is Quran, Hadiths, Sharia.

Quran, Hadiths, Sharia. This trinity. It is a personality, a face, is a being; are the men and women who generated it, and made it possible. It is this crowd (the somber 'umma') that feels identified, represented and defended by that which is also a weapon. It is not the only weapon that crowd; this trident. Often also threaten and intimidate. And they are accomplices teachers of the veiled threat, ambiguity, lying, violence and death. And they have thousands of murderous hands everywhere on the planet ready to meet the threats and warnings (direct or veiled), or explicit judgments, of some 'religious judge'.

The 'umma' extends everywhere, they are everywhere; these unwanted and undesirable guests. It is evil, our evil; the evil of the free world. As a malignant tumor progresses; as a metastasis fatal to host peoples.

*Notice to Americans. Europe is much worse than USA; Europe is almost lost, and our people are sleeping, confused, or intimidated; both ordinary citizens and our despicable political class. It would be necessary extreme measures to resolve the problem of Islam in Europe; other Europeans would be required, I dare say.

You are still in time rid you of this ideological monstrosity, and that dreaded 'umma'; waited, however, worse in this way. Take note of us, because as I say, most of the European population, and for whatever reason, they live on the back of this severe and terrible problem; and to the few that denounce our passivity and advertise with clear voice terrifying future that awaits them to our children, our grandchildren, and generations, doing nothing thereon, are we brand as fascist, xenophobic, ultra-rights... 'e tutti quanti'; it is lavish us the worst insults and we are stigmatized publicly.

There is no awareness of danger in the Nations of the free world. Most people don't believe endangered or threatened; endangered their worlds; their liberty, truth, identity, difference; its being. Endanger their very existence as people. Its past, it's present, and future.

At you that just take the weapons of the word I am: waited worse; and resisted strongly.

*The war that we maintain is a 'man' against 'man' war. The war of a Muslim (of an Islamized or submitted) against a free man (not Islamized, not submitted). It's 'models' of 'man', of 'humanity'. Ethnic cultures that neither make up the free world not struggle among themselves for cultural reasons, nor seek to impose on other peoples his own culture or his human model or humanity. But this is the problem with Islam, since this, as an expansive and offensive universal ideology, collides with each of the non-Muslim cultures of the planet (European, Japanese, Chinese, Jewish, Indian...). All the worlds, all models and cultural traditions, we are threatened by Islam.

A conceptual accuracy. It is faithful that to remain faithful (forgive the repetition) to the ancestral traditions of his homeland, his family, his people. Will be the infidel who left it and substitutes for other foreign; all that adopted or adopt a universal ideology (by no means least particular and ethnic) abandoning legacy own; which abjure own traditions and his own blood, those who disjoin their own people and adopt a no-people another (all believers or converts of your 'personal' choice). These are the only and true infidels.

*We must be truthful, subtle, and accurate. We need warriors of the word; warriors-philosophers. We need of 'Militant Athena' (Athena Promachos).

This somber tricephalous which bother our laughs, our words, and our freedom, has to be spiritually defeated; and that silence their mouths forever. Many have achieved it. I think of Pat Condell. I think of the valiant, intelligent, and passionate Wafa Sultan.

It is the true word that defeat, sprays, and destroys; destroys in our minds and our hearts. It is the perfect weapon. As a flash depressing darkness, and brings the light.

Has to have more public space these voices; it is to spread more and more this liberating and purifying light.

We must protect, and defend, where the case, our freedom; that allows us to be clear, and truthful. This is our freedom, our light, our truth. It is of our genius, and our ancestral cultural identity. It is our nature that is at stake; we game us our being (the 'to remain', the 'to follow on being').

All along the watchtower.

Manu Rodríguez. From Europe (10/ 10/ 10).

*Hindsight, decomposed, broken world. Muslim migratory flows (Asian and African) are inundating the free world. In few years we shall don't recognize to Nations and traditional peoples in Europe or America; we shall lose them forever.

Despite circumstances, that worsen every day for men and free people, we must keep fighting. We must not lose control in our Nations. If anything the intentions of the 'umma' in UN prospering (to prohibit and penalize any criticism of Islam in non-Muslim lands), the opposition to Islam in the free world would have no choice but the clandestinely; in our own land. This would be already too. Is lamentable the clumsiness, ineptitude and cowardice of our political and legal institutions in the current times, when we more need courageous, wake up, and active people.

Surprised the speed of our fall; it is accelerating. The fall of the Twin Towers seems to be an early model of ours -Europe, and the same USA.

Why; how has happened; how allowed? It is unusual, absurd; it is a nightmare. And does nothing to prevent the imminent and foretold disappearance of our peoples and cultures. It seems that it is the end, our end. Millennia of life and hope thrown to death and oblivion. Without scarcely resistance.

*"The gods died laughing when one of them said that it was the only", in the words of Nietzsche. Today we have no mood to say the same; they are not irony times. This is what today should say: "Gods have fled in horror before the violent, ambitious, and mixtificador god of the 'umma'; nothing else to hear their cries and screams, have run into hiding".

We need gods that protect and defend us. But, what is a god? A god is a sign, and is a symbol. A sign/symbol whereby a people talking, said himself; which feels identified. It is a banner. It is the face, character, personality, the voice of this collective. One or many, in any case, the various communities speak, and are expressed through their gods.

It must be taken into account, therefore, the ethnic and local nature of the god of Muslims. We are witnessing a sort of pan-Arabism. It is an Arab god, and although many and diverse peoples are subjected to this god (which make up the 'umma'), remains an ethnic god, a god that arose within the Arab people -that 'speak' in Arabic. It should also be taken into account that this god is, firstly, a portrait of its creator, and that this imposed it, before which any other, its own people (and so violent).

A god that represent us, which is one with us, our thing. That is the question. Better than the god of the 'umma'; god best in wisdom, and best at power. A god that exceeds the will of power and future of the god of the 'umma', that 'god' that threatens us; that threatens our being.

To persevere in the being (symbolic, cultural) is, here and now, defeat.

We can see in every nation and culture the offensive behavior of the 'umma', the 'offensive use of faith', by using the accurate expression of Onega; the 'offensive' Muslims in every village and every culture.

The god of the umma struggle in each village with their respective 'god'. Attacking the principles that unite a people, the symbols of their faith; signs/symbols preferential, supreme. Seeks to 'convert' to the members of these peoples, deprive these people of their own; subverts. Broadened by disintegrating, by destroy the host culture. As well as made in the same beds; against their own parents (the linguistic-cultural environment within which he was born), their own culture and its own people (the first subject); against theirs. Such is his ambition domain that aspires to the whole world.

This is the cultural and spiritual fight that today argues peoples and Nations of the free world with the Islamic 'nation'; with the 'umma'; in this third wave (his third attempt). It extends as a social pathology all corners of the planet; is a fifth column; an army in the shade; a shadow advancing every day. I can see it from the watchtower. Neither nothing nor nobody, of moment, stops it.

There is a god wisest, more elderly, most powerful that god of the 'umma'; a god that has no name; a 'something' that we don't succeed to say; an ineffable symbol. This inexpressible 'something' will be that encourage and inspire us. Father/Mother of our freedom, our truth, our light; of our being all (nature and culture). This will impulse us. An impetuous wind we shall be against evil, against our evil. We shall overcome.

Ask readers that approaching to this reading or vision of what we speak, of what we don't stop to speak, that playing this game; that seeing of that way the matter that we bring us.

The matter will be history, and myth, and epic. "Vae victis!"

Dithyramb.

Manu Rodríguez. From Europe (07/11/10).

*Winds of freedom arrive on me. Europe awake, it rises; and are not rumors. The Germanic peoples have been the firsts to respond to the threat. It happens in Germany, in the Netherlands, in Austria, in Switzerland, in the Scandinavian countries, in Great Britain. Cultural and political nationwide and purely anti-Islamic groups multiply. They have recognized the evil, our evil. The reconquest has begun; the recovering of the health. It must go along with the Romanesque countries, the Slavs and the Balts; and Celts, Greeks, Albanians, Basques, Hungarians, Estonians, Finns and Lapps; all Europeans peoples.

Our war is sacred, is sanctified in advance; it is legitimate, just. We protect us, we advocate us; we defend our being. We fight against non-being, against death and oblivion. We enjoy the blessing of our god. We shall defeat.

Winds of joy approach on me. Our god has not forgotten Europe. Again encourages us, pushes us, leads us, and protects us; our god sublime, our ineffable symbol.

This lifted, this aurora, this clarity. Now come the day. Beautiful Europe already stretches one's limb. Here come the sons of the aurora, the creatures of the morning; the watchers, the clearings, the actives, the diurnals; the news and futures.

Assist you and rejoice you, europides; there is good news. We have favorable winds. Now we advance towards horizons of light.

*To our generations come us times of war. I speak of the ominous presence of the 'umma' and his god in our beloved Europe and its barefaced and rude ambition domain in our own land. This very large Asian and African, Muslim population which extends our towns and cities and growing every day, comes with ambitious plans territorial and cultural -dream with to conquer us and submitted us (Islamize us); to deprive us of our land and our culture.

Endangered the European Europe, our ancestral mother country, our sacred land; endangered our sovereignty, our independence, our freedom, our identity. This is the alarming collective experience that is imposed on us Europeans in the present times; this threat, this danger; this 'reality'. We must prepare ourselves for what comes, for what it is. Up to us all, affects us all; summons us all.

Is unavoidable, and tragic, the fate reserved for us Europeans of the current and future generations (very few); we are facing since now to the possible loss of our ancestral land and the extinction of our cultures; our possible disappearance. All Europeans participate, whether we like it or not, in this existential contest which we are game the being. This stimulating experience will test our will of power and for the future, our 'wanting to remain'.

*Is an ethnic and local monster which endangers our being; he come from far away, and beyond time. It is a ghost from the past; a ghost that has yet to be massively defeated -on earth and in heaven.

And it will be; it will be largely overcome. Fast and accurate rays fall on him from the heavens of Europe. He will collapse; will vanish himself the ghost, the simulacrum. It will be a collective victory, and a collective joy will be. Now come the heroic generations, the heroes of the reconquest; the rash winds, the future. In this aurora. And come awake, 'armed', and determined.

Shoulder with shoulder, and foot by foot, and shield with shield, so we will make progress.

And that every one, in his post and on each occasion, launches its dart as if it were the last.

Until the next,

Manu

Two issues. On the 'gentile' concept, and culture and religion. With regard to some observations of C. M.

Manu Rodríguez. From Europe (10, 11, 28).

*The term 'gentile' don't had, in origin, nothing to do with 'courteous', 'courtesy', or similar terms. They were the words that Jews and Christians used to designate those that were not Jews or Christians, and were used in a pejorative way to designate another –'people'. These terms are translation of the Hebrew word 'goy' ('goyim', plural), of equal significance. The Greek term for the case is 'ethne' (remember the 'ethnic' music); also recalls that often speak of ethnic religions (which also could be called gentiles religions), namely, not universal cultures/religions, ancestral cultures linked to a people and that enter contradict with universalism and totalitarianism of Christianity, and Islam (because they are in danger of disappearing). These terms ('ethne', 'gentile'...) were used as equivalent concept 'pagan' (refers to the primitive peasant traditions -of 'pago', that meaning 'field' in Latin), or the later 'unfaithful' used by Muslims, and were likely to be used also as conceptual weapons; as general concepts had (and have) the 'virtue' of do away with the various peoples and cultures, erase the essential differences; humanity was divided Christians and pagans, or Muslims and infidels.

I claim this primitive meaning 'gentile' term to designate, as I say in the blog 'Europe Gentile' to Europe non-Christian, not Jewish or not Muslim; the autochthonous and ancestral; Europe ours, to their own. It is like saying: "Yes, we are each other, the gentiles, and we are proud of it"; "we are proud of not to be you". It is the pride and honor of not having broken millennial bridge you linking to your people, to your genius, to your being.

The current use of the 'gentile' concept (as a synonym for 'courteous', 'gallant' or 'delicate') began in the middle ages (12th and 13th centuries), and were poets of the, so auto-denominated, gentle love (Guitone, Guinizelli, Cavalcanti, Dante...), heirs of the poets of courtly love (troubadours), who retook it and returned to put it in circulation longer with this added significance. In this way were distinguished from Christians. It was a fun and subtle way to oppose these (their ideology and their power), as well as to circumvent censorship. Confess Gentile was confess to be polite, and was confess not-Christian... Should take into account the ambiguity and, at the same time, the logical and semantic equivalence introduced poets and intellectuals of the period in these concepts: 'gentile' worth as 'courteous' and 'no Jewish', 'no-Christian', or 'non-Muslim'; a concept led to another. "Only in gentile heart fit Amor..." said Guinizelli. How should we read, listen or understand?

At the end of the 13th century appeared a book entitled 'From the three impostors', referring to, not what to say, Moses, Jesus, and Muhammad. All this (semantic innovation and appearance of the book) happened at the same time and at the same place; throughout the second half of the 13th century, and in Sicily, in the Court of Frederick II, which credited the authorship of the book cited. (This text can be translation or paraphrase of the book appeared in Baghdad to 1280 'Review of the three faiths', written in Arabic by a doctor and Jewish philosopher named Ibn Kammuna.).

It must be said that all begin when poets of courtly love, lived primarily in Provence and Languedoc, sought refuge at the Court of Frederick II fleeing persecution and killings Simon de Montfort, under the direction and the order of the papacy was doing for those lands under the pretext of heretics-ending taste cataros and albigenses; there were more than thirty thousand victims.

Troubadours poets and the 'dolce stil novo', poets of courtly love and gentle love, are the poets of god Amor, of god another, the gentle god. This time was for Europe a proto-Renaissance or a conatus; a flash of light, a display of aurora.

This excursion comes to story by your connection of 'gentle' with 'idyllic'; you've moved in the field of conceptual resonances of modern usage of the term 'gentle'. We must also take account of the former; or think all possible uses of a term to speak in a philosophical way.

Clarified this, you answer. Neither idealized, how you say elsewhere, nor considered idyllic past of my people, because that is not the point. Is not that the past of my people was idyllic or not (also, what from what point of view 'idyllic'; for whom?); It is simply that is the past of my people; my people, my blood, my being. I don't see why I would leave or ignored or disregarded the own past, or, like the 'conversions', leaving himself and take the alien, what would be, in both cases, auto-alienation; on the contrary, I have my past at the top, and I would prefer to others. Is that a people should not lose, on penalty of disappearing himself; what a people should not lose at all.

I remember you the Christianized, regardless of where, have to the Patriarchs of Jews as own ancestors, and Israel and the Jewish people history as sacred, as well as sancta Israel land. For Muslims, regardless of where, and not only for the Salaphists (of 'salaph', 'ancestor' in Arabic), the period of ancestors is in the early days after Muhammad's death, rests in the first Caliphs; its own pre-Islamic past is as if it had not been, which also applies to Christianized peoples and their pre-Christian past. The pre-Christian or pre-Islamic past of the peoples is destroyed, or maligned. It is an absurdity; multitude of individuals and peoples with past and ancestors spurious; here and there. What happens with real ancestors, its own history, and his ancestral homeland?

Let us not forget the vast areas Christianized or Islamized, of numerous peoples alienated of their indigenous and ancient cultures. There is no more than Christians, Muslims, or Buddhists... believers by all sides; there are no peoples, there is no others cultures. For many peoples and individuals their holy figures and their holy place are in Israel and Jerusalem, or Arabia and Mecca. Is a collective, planetary alienation; a universal uprooting.

It is the own ideology judeo-Christian, not its handling, which plunged Europe into the dark middle ages, in a 'supreme winter'; until the Renaissance not began to re-emerge. Gradually recovered legal, artistic, philosophical, policies and other traditions of the Greco-Roman culture -democracy that both appreciate today. It's recovered the gentility. We again are stepping on European ground. We were at home. We have become.

*There are many histories gruesome, true or false, put into circulation in Europe by early Christians to undermine the confidence that those peoples had in their own cultural traditions. A negative view of ancient cultures –without distinction, re-nominated as simply 'pagan' cultures; it's disfigure, disguise.

What we have today in Europe with Muslims is that the Greco-Roman cultural sphere (and eventually all over Europe) began to suffer with Christians makes almost two thousand years: the same criticism, the same propaganda, the same campaign of intoxication, the same strategy of smear and demoralization of peoples that thought Christianize (now Islamize); the same process of acculturation and enculturation; the same insidious destruction of memory. Our traditions discussed, our ancestors vituperate; our being all trampled.

They'll return to alienate us culturally; we'll return to ignore us. History repeats itself. We will again lose the newly recovered gentility. (These phrases you can put them also in mark; which becomes of affirmatives to interrogatives.) Doubt or uncertainties are less painful than certainty (give hope.)

*Dear C., a slogan is not a culture, a culture are involved thousands of human beings and thousands of facts. It is justice take into account all and everything (to the extent of our ability). A slogan can be controlled by a religious ideology (which you mention –'love your neighbor as yourself'), or a policy ('proletarians of the world...'), or a philosophical ('treats the other like you treat yourself'). These phrases, more sound and pompous than effective, can be part of a culture, but does not represent it in any way. The thing is not so simple.

The culture of a people is their religion; and the more linked is an individual to their own culture, so much more religious will be. The whole culture, including cuisine, or how to make your needs, making love, or bury their dead; its science, its right, his music... everything; big and small; earth and heaven. And that is what every village must love with all their forces and defend to the death; their own linguistic-cultural heritage, their own world, his spiritual conditions of existence; the atmosphere, the air requiring breathing with amplitude and freedom. It is also the fruit of generations.

In regards to that phrase appointments, and that religion, have caused the world both damage and which has caused and causes Islam (recalls the 'Islam is peace'). These phrases have not served more than as instruments of power of priestly caste domain. They have destroyed hundreds of cultures and made hundreds of villages disappear in the world. Chinese culture has been about to disappear because of communism. It's lost Egyptian culture, the Persian, Greek, the Roman... in the name of these ideologies of those principles; in the name of the God of Christians, or God Muslims, or Communist humanism. Mankind has been lost; all individuals and peoples, we have lost some of our being. The tree of the peoples and cultures of the world, which is also the tree of life, the purest tree, is unhorned, dirty, broken. Future work will be to purify it and put back it.

The end result of this entire sad story is that not remain in our world but these few religious and political ideologies. They have taken over the planet have divided and it faced. The domain areas of these ideologies are at war with each other. We, humans, are not more than tools in the hands of their religious or political leaders, they confront us each other; we are their pawns, their soldiers... Until when?

Talk about this subject I am saddened. I am saddened to your output. I see you alienated and trapped by a figure and an ideology (a character and its slogan, or 'message'). You are not a 'free spirit', yet you speak of 'message' and 'truth' ('one' message and 'one' truth), still not you've unleashed -des-alienated; you need to return it, go back to your village, your people.

Why an appointment of Jesus, why not a quote from Tales, Solon, Tyrtaeus, Xenophon, Heraclitus, or Pindar? How so far from home? Do not know already to yours; you forgot you have ancestors and wise themselves? Lessons learned from the people themselves are neglected. This is very common nowadays: Buddhist, Taoist, Christian or Muslim appointments on the lips of our men and women; and ignorance or forgetfulness of own. What they know their own wise, or of its own people?

These large characters that talk, which provide these 'slogans' wonderful, those that provide the 'message' and the 'truth', and that I not hesitate call large greats narcissus are also the 'big brothers' of totalitarian ideologies, universalistic religions, theocracies, priestly tyranny or policies (Jesus, Mohammad, Buddha, Lenin or Stalin, Mao, Castro, Che Guevara...). In our Middle Ages, and conflicts between Christians and Muslims is already around '1984' compliment. There you can also find the O'Bryan (Bernardo of Claraval...) and Winston Smith and Julia (Peter Abelard and Heloise); and the world divided and confronted; in that middle ages where the only points of light were the courtly love or gentile love poets. Where is lodge and reach the power these ideological monstrosities, begin somber, gloomy; the folly and horror. That we not fooled with humanitarian slogans. His word is love and peace, but his work is discord and death.

Your occurrence is of many; it makes use of these slogans saviors, these expressions, and then said: "if everyone did that or should it behave as"... This is what is known as a proposition counterfactic, against the facts, impossible in logic. Required, that you don't be you, that be other. That salmon not be salmon, that oak not to be oak; that all fish be tuna, that all tree chestnut. It is a proposition conditional, not constructive, null, empty. This and nothing is the same. Furthermore, not ye thought to end what propose: the approval of all, the symbolic cloning. Gives me speak only, you make us echoing of vacuum of your propositions. Is like a habit, we are accustomed to hear and tell similar phrases; to speak in vain.

When we give entry in fiction, the homologation carried to the extreme produce panic; it is terrifying, harrowing. In spite of everything, are the discourse and the dream of tyrants and the narcissus from all times and all latitudes (a Republic of 'selves' in his image and likeness): "all the people as I, made at my way, at my custom; if everyone were like I...", (and here comes that this narcissus is considers himself as the 'only' valid model of humanity)... "If should love his neighbor as himself, Oh!"... These and similar are the monologues of the 'big brothers'.

Remember the convert when, finally possessed, says something of: "no longer I, but Christ in me". This is the sinister fruit of "deny yourself and follow me". We have the Christian homologation, whose model and big brother is Jesus, we have the Muslim homologation, whose model and big brother is Muhammad, the homologation Buddhist...; we have the homologation Communist, with various models -from the Marx-Engels couple until Che Guevara; as viruses circulating such models, the prototypes to clone. And the good cloned will be 'good' Christians, 'good' Muslims, or 'good' communists; both more perfect how more approaching to the model. To melt with him, as happens in the mystical Christian, Muslim or Buddhist; this is the Supreme alienation, the extinction of the subject and the absolute triumph of model. I do not know how not shake us of horror before these processes of alienation; the mode reproduction of the prototypes, the process of his duplication; the destruction of the host.

They are various models or systems of universalism, totalitarianism, and homologation/alienation (big brothers), but the repression, intolerance, persecution, and death which bring with them are the same. Utopias, trafficked into practice, complying with what they say our corpse stories fiction, lead to the absurd and the horror.

*The same opinion that we deserve the Europeans that Islamize himself today we can have of Europeans Christianized yesterday, or those who still defend and maintain the Christianity in one way or another. You know, or don't know.

They are the perfectly alienated/trained from the cradle. Are also the uprooted, brought to another place; the spiritually stare; decapitated (which have no 'head').

The worst are certainly converts; those who voluntarily and deliberately leave his and adopt alien; leaving loved ones; which auto-aliens its own family, of their own people. Are the only infidels; there are no other infidels.

*You say me, in another comment, which you can read Levi-Strauss. Indeed, was Jewish, and philosophical and European Jewish (which had assimilated European culture (from Greece and Rome)), to the way Einstein. I recommend you 'Wild thinking'. I hope you can help to redefine or relocate the concepts 'culture' and 'religion'; and to rediscover with them.

Best regards,

Manu

About the 'Europe Gentile'.

Manu Rodríguez. From Europe (10, 12, 13).

*Do not know what to say that he has not said already in everything that I have been writing in recent years and can be found in my name (contained in articles published in the 'larespuestadeeuropa' blog for 3 years) facebook pages and 'desdeeuropa' (collects texts from 1978 until 2005 grouped under the title 'From Europe', and that I am now just publishing).

I claim the autochthonous and ancient Europe, Europe not Christian, or not Muslim, the Europe Gentile, or Pagan, if you like. 'From Europe' (text that I can request by email) sought to draw the attention of our unfortunate acculturation and enculturation; loss or distortion of our cultural traditions all (Greek, Roman, Germanic, Celts...). This event is really outrageous and humiliating in our respective histories. This is something that weighs, or should weigh on the conscience and the memory of all Europeans.

No people that values itself must consent to such cultural alienations, be deprived of their own culture, or see insulted and undermined their own people and their own ancestors; anything all that occurred when the Christianization. Anyone wishing to verify what I say you can consult its first century's domain Christian texts; there can warn the despicable behavior had no complex or indecent assault, with European Aborigines. I advise the work of Karlheinz Deschner, "Criminal history of Christianity".

Of course it is not of rejuvenating ceremonies and others; this is a purely spiritual and intellectual recovery (in our minds and our hearts). It is important to be current and not lose sight of the social, scientific, artistic, politic... cultural in broad sense, which we have achieved and we have achieved no thanks, but in spite of Christian alienation. We must not forget to enlightened thinkers and their influence on the American Revolution and the French, who formed the legal and political foundations of contemporary Europe; it was precisely combat the judeo-Christian ideology and its influence on Government, conception of the world, education, and other shapes.

Speaking of gentile Europe is not only speaking pre-Christians ancestors Greeks, Romans, Germanic or Celts, but all those Europeans who since the Renaissance (and since before, in the short period of Troubadour culture) have been recovering pre-Christian, legal, political, scientific or artistic institutions in spite of censorship of the Inquisition and persecution that were submitted by the religious authorities of Christian sects, here and there, as long as they were able. Talk about the gentile Europe is not only speak of men and women of the Renaissance and enlightenment, is to speak of Darwin, say by case, and all those who in the past two hundred years, and from art and thought, have transformed our reality social, political, scientific and other, to oppose foreign ideological tyranny (therefore not another thing is the tradition judeo-Christian in our land), still continue her speech of love and peace; I don't know how are not ashamed to speak after his criminal history.

Well, we already lost once the link with our ancestors, or what is same with ourselves; with our spirit, our genius with our being. Job cost us to recover since the Renaissance, as I say. However, at the present time, again our culture is in danger of disappearing. History repeats itself. I mean, the invasion on any rule that we are suffering from some thirty years ago by millions and millions of Asian and African Muslims settled in our lands, people dangerously increasing every day. The results of this invasion are even worse than the first (when the Christianization), because the ideological aspect is compounded by the demographic. On this occasion we will not only lose our culture (the old and new), this time we also lose the land. On this I extend 'larespuestadeeuropa' blog and facebook my name (the same content, the same items).

There that say that Islam is much worse than Christianity has not of centuries of domain brake of loving people of the truth and freedom, something that we are honored to Europeans (among others), and were keys to our release of Christian spiritual domain. These peoples dominated by Islam have never known any Renaissance of its ancient pre-Islamic cultures (Egypt, Iran...), nor of course any enlightenment. Sorry for them. Islamic ideology has not changed nothing from the high Middle Ages was created; his speech (and its power of alienation) therefore it is intact and alive for the people who suffer, but for us Europeans, may not be more absurd, terrifying, and anachronistic.

This I say Europeans and all those people that have suffered from Christian alienation and face these days to the thrust of Islam. How to invoke to repel the cultural and territorial aggression that we are suffering because of the Muslims a similar to which they argue (theocratic, totalitarian, priestly) ideology and that also were our first alienation? How to speak of Christian Europe, how to claim it may be, precisely as akin to the Muslim, Christian ideology which we pull out of this quagmire? How to invoke those which we already submitted; do you already destroying our cultures and over a thousand years maintained a regime of terror, repression, persecution and death against everything what no-Christian?

He is invoked to medieval ghosts, to insane and killer quarrels with no other purpose than to prolong the life of these half carcasses which are Christianity and Islam; thus, against Islam and with all our strength, yes, but from Europe, from European Europe, from the gentile Europe.

To complete these reflections I also send the penultimate article I published in the 'larespuestadeeuropa' blog and facebook my name ("on the concept of 'gentle'..."). It is an extended version of the already published.

Finally, know is that our ancestors celebrated these dates ranging from the last days of the year (from the entrance of the winter solstice) to the early days of the year ahead; known is also Christians roamed these festivities and Christianized them.

Gentiles Europeans we must recover this holiday season. The tree is a good symbol, and for all peoples. We can have the tree as allegory of each village, the 'Chinese' tree, say for case, or 'European' tree (the tree 'Greek', or 'Armenian' tree...); and we also have as allegory of the universal tree, the tree of peoples and cultures of the world, which is also the tree of life, the purest tree.

I take this opportunity to wish everyone, from the newly recovered gentility, happy holidays.

Best regards,

Manu

Pour Christine Tasin (Riposte laïque).

Manu Rodríguez. Desde Europa (15/06/10).

Estimée Christine Tasin, merci pour la réception de mon courrier et de mon blog. Seulement une précision, je ne parle pas d'expulser à tous les étrangers de l'Europe, mais seulement les musulmans. Les musulmans ne s'intégreront jamais dans une autre culture. Ou au contraire, ils la désagrégeront (ou ils le procureront). L'islam est une 'culture' antagonique de toute une autre. (Comme par un autre côté l'est le christianisme, qui a fini, en son temps, avec toutes nos cultures autochtones). C'est-à-dire, purement et simplement, histoire. L'universalisme et le totalitarisme de ces idéologies n'ont pas un autre but qu'elle être imposé comme uniques là où ils sont affirmés. Il n'y a pas de doute que celle-ci sera la prochaine guerre en Europe ; la guerre contre la population musulmane étrangère résidante dans nos terres et dans nos villes.

Si on ne prend pas de mesures contre l'islam, depuis déjà, ils détruiront notre culture. Ils nous détruiront. Ils mettront un terme nous. Celui-là sera notre futur; un futur parfait. Nous aurons été. Qu'est-ce que croit que penseront nos descendants de les générations présentes ?

Lire des nouvelles sur les progrès de l'islam dans le nôtre aimée l'Europe est terrible. Et nos dirigeants, ainsi comme notre classe politique démontrent être incompetents, faibles, et des lâches. Ils sont donc ceux qui, après les dernières décennies, ont placé à l'Europe au bord de leur ruine, de sa chute, de son extinction. Je me réfère à l'Europe européenne, celle de nos ancêtres millénaires.

Pour l'instant la excessive population musulmane, asiatique et africaine, dénature, en affaiblissant, nos peuples et villes, et nos terres toutes. Je ne me reconnais déjà pas en ces dernières. L'Europe n'est déjà pas l'Europe. Le pas du 'jus sanguinis' au 'jus solis', la concession de la nationalité (et le vote), la possibilité d'acquérir des terres et des propriétés... En fin, notre situation est plus que préoccupante. Et le pire reste à venir.

J'observe aussi le manque de solidarité entre les nations et les peuples européens. Nous ne nous faisons pas l'écho de ce qu'il passe en Europe mais seulement dans notre pays (par rapport aux problèmes qui chaque quel a avec la population musulmana étrangère, toujours étrangère). Il n'y a pas conscience européenne, nous n'endommage pas l'Europe. Ont en effet français, et des anglais, et des espagnols, et néerlandais... Mais ils n'ont pas européens, encore.

Les musulmans, eux-mêmes, ne nous laisseront pas une autre sortie qui son expulsion. Il sera ou ils, ou nous. Nous ne devons pas oublier que la scission de la population de la planète dans deux moitiés antagoniques est le même islam celui qui l'instaure.

Bon, non le gênant plus. De nouveau, merci pour tout.

Salutations,

Estimée Christine, moi n'attendait pas sa réponse, que je lui remercie à nouveau. Je comprends que ce qui est de l'expulsion sonne très fort, bien que nous, en Espagne, ayons déjà eu cette expérience une fois terminée la 'reconquête' (siècles XVI et XVII); nous il n'est pas resté autre remède. À des situations extrêmes, solutions extrêmes.

Les mesures que vous proposez sont encore faibles. D'aucune manière ils arrêtent le problème approfondi. Ils sont des solutions formelles, nous pourrions dire.

Même si les musulmans abandonnaient les aspects de ce qui est charia qu'ils heurtent contre notre sensibilité et nos constitutions démocratiques, ils ne le feraient pas mais comme une mesure contingent, tactique, par ainsi dire ; dans l'attente de temps meilleurs. Entretemps la population musulmane étrangère continue à augmenter, chaque jour, dans toute l'Europe. Qu'est-ce qu'arrivera dans cinquante années ? Je me crains que nous serons (nos descendants) ceux que nous devons adapter nos constitutions démocratiques, s'ils survivent, à ce qui est charia. Toutes nos formes de vie (politiques, juridiques, sanitaires, esthétiques, culinaires...) ils disparaîtront.

Quant à ce qui est réticents en abandonner ces aspects contraires nos lois et à constitutions ils pourront aller, oui, aux zones 'fièrement' musulmans, bien qu'en notre propre Europe (les 'no-go secteurs').

Une anecdote récente. Dans une école allemande, dans une classe avec vingt élèves adolescents où seulement quatre étaient allemandes, les élèves étrangers (tous musulmans, la majorité turcs) ils refusent de parler allemand ; quand le professeur les appellera l'attention à ce sujet ceux-ci ils leur répondent que pourquoi ne le commence pas à apprendre turc, puisque dans cinquante années, ou moins, toutes les mangers de porc allemandes le parleront.

Nous avons des épreuves quotidiens de la talant violente, arrogante, et insidieuse de cette population en notre Europe. Tout au plus nombreuse, plus sûre de oui, et plus arrogant. Je crains par les petits pays avec peu population (la Belgique, la Hollande, les Pays scandinaves...). Par voie démocratique ils pourraient passer, dans le futur, à des mains de musulmans étrangers. Il a ainsi été comme Hitler a accédé en pouvoir. Il n'y aura rien plus absurde dans l'histoire de l'humanité; nous, les Européens autochtones, perdrons l'Europe démocratiquement.

Nous sommes devant un fascisme d'autant plus horrible que ce qui est hitlérien ou ce qui est stalinien. Et, en outre, étrange à notre nature, à notre sensibilité, et à notre volonté (depuis le siècle illustré et la Révolution française, précisément). Il y a incluse la possibilité d'interdire l'islam lui-même (Coran, charia et autres), comme idéologie totalitaire. Depuis nos lois propres.

En fin, le sujet est long et ne veux pas l'entretenir plus.

À nouveau merci et, jusqu'à ce qui est proche? Salutations,

Manu

For members of 'Europe Gentile'.

Manu Rodríguez. From Europe (30/12/10).

This group is intended to claim the pre-Christian European (and Indo-European) cultures, autochthonous and ancestral. Of course there is no commitment whatsoever, leave it when like. If you like, can you participate with photos, videos, links, or documents.

I look forward to facebook pages related to these cultural traditions (Celtic, Germanic, Greek, Roman, Armenian, Persian, aryas Vedic, Slavic and other). If you know some could send the links to the group.

It would be interesting to create a European 'network' of religious and cultural groups pre-Christians. Our European identity is more related to those cultures (Greek, Roman, Germanic, Celts...) than with the Jew-Christian, which was that deprived us of ours and imposed (by force). This is a painful episode in our history.

In historical times we are living, where the fundamental phenomenon is the Islamic threat (ideological and demographic), nobody remembers those cultures or of those peoples; the voice of Europe, the genuine voice of Europe, lies buried, yet, by Christian Europe or the Europe of freedoms. We have to achieve the European Europe, gentile Europe (pagan, native), to have voice in this conflict. We must create strategies for the promotion of these cultures, these ancient peoples. The European population comes from them; they are our ancestors. We need to retrieve this Europe.

*Gentile Europe is a Europe of ancestral and indigenous peoples (Indo-European or not), whose traditions were suppressed or semi-detruded when the Christianization. It is a debt that we have all Europeans with our real ancestors; claim his name and his memory.

(The destiny of my people is my destiny. If my people disappear, I disappear; if my people suffer humiliation, I did humiliation...)

Europeans of present and future generations have a work performed; they have to retrieve the link with the ancestors, retrieve lost or alienated ancestral and indigenous identity. Recover the honor, pride and dignity. A village (folk) deprived of their own culture is a village without honor.

It is that Europe what I say which should prevail, not Christian, or Muslim Europe. We are ancient peoples. I speak of the millennial cultural heritage (past and present) of European peoples (Greeks, Romans, Celts, Germans, Slavs, Balts...). To recover spiritually these traditions, seems to me vital. Would retrieve our identity swiped by Christian cultural alienation; would retrieve our genius, our being, our voice, the genuine voice of the peoples of Europe.

Gentile Europe is a desire and a project. As awareness is an effective weapon to protect us from any attempt of spiritual alienation, or cultural aggression. This awareness is an immune system healthy and active; repels or neutralizes the preachers of universal creeds. And yet the violent faces and defeat. Nothing feared this awareness that don't knows defeat; and nothing greed. Neither the desire nor the fear removed these walls; incorruptible, insurmountable. This awareness gives force, momentum, right, truth.

I avoid and reject the concept of 'personal' salvation circulating in universal traditions. These traditions are, in the words of Fraser (The Golden Bough), 'selfish and immoral faiths'. As universal those are preached and apostolan, make proselytizing; try splitting individuals in the group to which they belong, to deprive folk of their own; splitting and facing the peoples; sow discord.

My writing is intended to be gentile, pagan, or as we like to call it. Write from our ancestors, from Europe. Never lose sight of this our land that we should take as sacred; nor to my ancestors Greeks, Romans, Germanic, Celtic, Slavic or Balts, that we should equally be sacred. I make use of all traditions to which I have had access, basically Greco-Roman tradition and the Germanic, somewhat Vedic arya and Iranian Zarathustra, to a lesser extent the Celtic, and I recognize my almost total lack of familiarity with the Slavic and Baltic traditions (I mentioned only the Indo-European traditions). I am opposed to all the Universalist and totalitarian ideologies (religious or political), which have just always destroying private our ethnic cultures. So for me the culture of a people is their religion; not only the cults and ritual aspects, also the artistic, the culinary, legal, scientific, the medicinal... is the whole culture; the past, present, and future.

The NeoRúniko is what its name suggests, a new sacred write to Gentile Europe. Starting with the code established by me (for not multiply codes, because that hinder its use), could be adapted to any language. I use Spanish phonological alphabet. The phonological can significantly reduce our alphabets. The Spanish is sixteen consonants. Use chromatic points for vowels. It would be a script for specific linked; to the cult, for example.

If someone wishes to receive the NeoRúniko (and other texts), can send me your e-mail address for internal message, or my email address (which is on 'information' in my page (Manu Rodríguez Vázquez)).

Merry Christmas gentiles to all peoples of the tree. A new outbreak born us. Long life to the tree of peoples and cultures of the world; long life to the tree of life.

Best regards,

Manu

On some uses of the term 'pagan'.

Manu Rodríguez. From Europe (12/01/11).

*There are inconsistent uses of the term 'pagan' or 'Paganism'. You hear talk of 'universal Paganism' but also 'pagan' marriage and similar expressions. The first thing to consider is that Paganism doesn't exist; what are the different peoples and different cultures. This simplicity is that is distorted by the aforementioned concepts.

It should be recalled once again that these are generally terms used by early Christians to refer to non-Christians; they do not distinguish between a Greek and Roman, a Celtic, or a German... They are analogous to terms such as 'idolater' or 'infidel' (used by Muslims). These terms do not have precise meaning, indicate anything, at least the designated people as such is not Jewish, it is not Christian, or it is not Muslim. At mouth of Jews, Christians and Muslims such concepts have a negative, pejorative and derogatory sense. They are thick concepts made to not distinguish precisely. Of the other is not interested in whether it is or is not Jewish, Christian or Muslim. With these concepts disappear different peoples, it is erases the key differences. And this was the intention. Peoples so designated were not Greeks, Persians, Egyptians, Phoenicians, or Indians; they were simply 'pagans', 'idolaters', or 'infidels'.

Despite this, there are these days numerous pseudo-religious flows telling themselves Pagan or neo-pagans, which have nothing to do with the pre-Christian or pre-Muslims archaic traditions so-called. I am referring to groups who practice a kind of pseudo-Paganism (spiritualist, occultism, astrology, Wicca, witches...) inspired, moreover, topics and vague put into circulation by Christians and Muslims in their propaganda literature. These Paganisms, who preach and apostolan here and there as if were universal religion whatsoever, lack not only ethnic spirit (is not a people which claims), but of information and culture on this matter.

There is much syncretism, taken from here and there, the taste of the inventor; without ethnic consciousness, without spiritual sensitivity. It must be said that such syncretism was the beginning of the end of Greek or Roman (inclusion or adoption of foreign cults); that negligence with the own, this loss of purity.

There is no pagan awareness, without more. There is no point talking about pagan spirituality, or pagan beliefs, or pagan keys to understanding the world...; all that is pure quackery, pure 'religious' scam adapted to the cultural chaos of the times.

There is, yes, consciousness or spirituality that can provide our own ancestral cultures; some of them were repressed, banned, or destroyed. This is what we need to preserve, retrieve, or claim.

Note this. Say, for example, that the Lapps (Sami) are not Pagans (from his final Christianization in the mid-nineteenth) is to say that the Lapps already aren't Lapps, because Paganism of the Lapps consisted precisely in their own culture ancient and native, fruit of countless generations. The Lapps lost their symbolic being when Christianization, or part thereof, to the extent that continue preserving some of pre-Christian traditions.

The unique concept that seems appropriate for the case now is 'religions (cultures) ethnic'. While must be clarified, as well as the various Paganisms they had nothing to do with one another, different religions/cultures ethnic have nothing to do with one another; they are branches different of the tree of peoples and cultures of the world. (What have to do the religion/culture san with religion/culture inui?)

At the time such terms should disappear, because they are rendered, not own, and not say anything about our different cultural traditions; they should be rejected by people that apply to them. Native and ancient culture it is not Pagan, or ethnic. Should to prevail the names of the different peoples and cultures; it is the Sami religion/culture, or Indian religion/culture, or China religion/culture.

I guess you know something about cultures and Indo-European peoples. We are linguistic and culturally related. Of those people only not Islamized India and the Parsis have survived to Christian and Muslim totalitarianism. It would be interesting that current Europeans and Indo-European peoples (peoples of Europe, Armenian, Persian, Indians...) to unite and face against those who destroyed our cultures and imposed us its own (the Jew-Christian-Muslim, Semitic tradition). Such events were a disgrace to our people, and an insult to the creative genius of our ancestors. That first Manu, our father, is waiting in the heaven of Varuna and Yama, pending the fate of his people (to which we belong). Until we do not recover the link with our ancestors and our cultures we will not recover our dignity and our honor. And this is my commitment. Do not write about anything else.

You have used the term 'judgment day'. I don't know if you know that this concept took the Jews of the Persian tradition (and hence became Christians). This is the final battle between Ahriman and Hormuz (light and dark). It is an Indo-European mitema and is related to the return of the Pandava (in the Mahabharata) and the German cycle of 'death of Balder-Ragnarok-winter Supreme-return of Balder'. You can read Georges Dumézil on this subject.

I constantly use this structure in what I write. We face not only darkness, but those peoples and cultures that caused our ruin and downfall (peoples and Semitic tradition). I do not see another way to defeat them that renewing this awareness of own in European an Indo-European peoples (Christianized or Islamized for the most part); recovering our cultural identities. It will be purification.

My intention is that we should use our ancestral cultures to oppose the rising Islamization of Europe (and world); that should recover our consciousness native and ancient; the pre-Christian or the pre-Muslim; that we should go back to be European (and Indo-European) peoples. That we should not abandon the spiritual ground of our own cultures to oppose anyone who wants to deprive us of them (that we do not invoke other cultures but the own). You've already given account that much of European and American opposition to Islam is made from 'our Christian roots' or 'our' Christianity. This alienation cultural and spiritual I mean. We are still ignoring ourselves. We do this war precisely, in the name of those which, in turn, deprived us of our cultures. You know that the Christianization of Europe has nothing to envy the Islamization of the India regarding violent, bloody, destructive (lost documents, books and others) and humiliating. Remains, fragments, ruins, this is what left us the legacy of our ancestors.

Regards,

Manu

What a shame!

*How it is possible that people with a sense of honor and dignity as pronounced as Europeans (Indo-Europeans or not) should consenting to leave their ancestral and indigenous cultures by replacing them with other foreign? What social or economic or cultural conditions pushed them to do so? How they endured such humiliation?

Peoples Germanic, Latin, Greek, Celtic, Balts, Slavs, Albanians, Armenians, finougrios (Sami, Finns, Hungarians, Estonians), Caucasians, Basques... And beyond, Persian and Indian peoples (by not to forget the Indo-European linguistic-cultural community). I speak of ancient symbolic identities, of the work of hundreds of generations; of peoples that sink their roots in the Paleolithic. As well, except the Parsee redoubt and not Islamized India, none of these peoples preserve their cultures; all have been Christianized or Islamized.

Is not a shame what I say? In what base his honor the current heirs of those peoples? Of what can be proud as peoples? People spiritually, culturally denatured, changed, eliminated.

Cultural identity is a powerful weapon, for this the preachers of foreign creeds that visited us (and visit) looking for (and looking) destroy it. Those that deprived us of our being symbolic censure perversely our respective past and ancestors. Our past and ancestors pre-Christians or pre-Islamic were denied, insulted, destroyed, deformed... They built an insulting picture about ourselves that we adopt or be it imposed on us without resistance, without discussion. What state of weakness could lead such unfortunate event? Barely have we kept our material and spiritual legacy -monuments, documents, traditions; all diminished and scarce.

That primitive uprooted made us lose sight of our identity and our symbolic being. And it had its consequences within the psychosocial and spiritual. Until now, and since then, we drift; one thousand seven hundred years of spiritual and cultural estrangement and alienation. Christianized (Judaized) or Islamized later (Arabized). This uprooting that lasts, this empty, this lack of identity, enables that foreign peoples visit us preaching and disseminating 'theirs' religions/cultures. We are weak, easy, accessible people, without character, no personality; to the search for identity, whatever that is. People are re-Christianize or re-Islamize or becomes Hindu or Buddhist; adopts the ethnic and cultural identity Jew-Christian, or the Arabic, India, or China; they 'identify' themselves with others peoples. Not many are Europeans who look towards their genuine bio-symbolic identities.

What little seems to be worth the one's cultural identity. It is not worth anything, it is change on the other, as changing suit or dress (which they Islamizing, for example, taking even the dress and the aspect of individuals of Islamized countries). What little dignity, what little pride; how much ignorance, how much slip, how much confusion; how much vanity. What a shame.

Nothing of this I would have been possible if we would keep our ancestral cultures and the link with our true ancestors. We would be today people strong and entrenched itself; people worthy, proud, and honorable; unapproachable, inaccessible, invincible.

My people alienated, confused; weakened, unnerved, strayed. Because we have lost the essential, our identity signs; that which distinguish us and differentiate us from others; the ancestral legacy, the ancient weapon; our wealth, our strength and our power. Poor, weak and helpless, so we appear. Easy prey to any cultural predator; easy to conquer, seduce, exploit.

I am ashamed of my people, of my blood. I don't recognize in these stateless and unfaithful. Where to look? Who to invoke? Have Europeans and Indo-Europeans already disappeared? Where are my people?

How to recover my people of extraneous hands that dominate? Is not only the Jew-Christian-Muslim tricephalous which dominates and submits; everyone, it seems, can makes prey on them. How I would like that they wake up to our being; that they recover its identity, that they recognize themselves, that they to return to themselves.

A new beginning for the European and Indo-European peoples; this is my dream, this is my desire. This is what I want.

On scatological stories. Letter to a friend.

*Estimated Nibir, I glad that you like what I write. Already I commented you that I use the stories of our Indo-European ancestors (as far as I know and study in depth). Scatological stories (on 'end time') are very interesting. However, I must warn you about a distinction between scatological stories of ethnic cultures and scatological stories of universalistic ideologies. In ethnic cultures (Greek, Roman, Germanic, arya Vedic...) the protagonist is the group, people, or community, and the antagonist that or anything that puts it at risk. In universalistic ideologies the antagonist are 'bad men' or 'sinners' or the 'infidels' around the world and the protagonist is the one that will end up with them (this in Christianity, the Islamism... and universalistic ideologies). Universal ideologies divide humanity into two parts, 'them' and 'the other'. The savior in each one of these ideologies does nothing but give the final victory (to Christians, the Muslims...). On the ethnic cultures it is 'a' battle final, decisive; it's defeating an enemy that threatens the very existence of the group or community.

For ethnic cultures the universalistic ideologies are evil, pure and simple. The universalistic ideologies (religious or political) are which have destroyed in every moment and in every place to the ethnic cultures. The Universalist stories are intentional stories (all those who believe not in Christ or Muhammad are evil, sinners, bad...). The story of Kalki that you mention use an Universalist language, there is a 'universal' enemy and an 'universal' friend. It is not the battle of Kurukshetra, or the return of the Pandava; nor is Supreme winter and its end, when the return of Balder...

I don't know if these examples I have been able to explain these differences. For us (Indo-European) the evil, which is 'our' evil, because it threatens 'our' existence, we can represent it as Vritra, or as Surt or Typhoon. This evil has already destroyed nearly our worlds, occupies our ancient land, divided and facing our peoples. They are our evil from old (Christianity and Islam).

In ethnic stories concerns revolve around the evolution of the same 'tribe'. It is the destiny of the group or community which talks about the stories; it's their good moments and their moments of danger. We should now use stories of danger; I mean its structures.

Our respective cultures give us stories whose structures may well come to our case, to our particular moment. It is not a release or a salvation universal, but a certain people. The threat is a specific people. And each people they must respond with their own weapons. These stories are also conceptual weapons. With these stories I represent our situation. Update the myth. Use the mythical, allegorical language. It is a timeless 'language'. It is used when it comes to count, when it is appropriate. And now are the moments of using these 'end times' stories because the risk is highest; we can disappear (our peoples, our cultures...).

*I must add that I also think that the universalistic ideologies (religious or political) are the universal evil (for all ethnic cultures); they are that threaten humanity, each one of them, with their respective homologations (Christian, Muslim, the communist...), their respective 'utopias', their respective hell; again and again.

They are ideologies and communities (the umma...) that they fattened and grow depriving people of their own (the 'converts'); that they alter the face of the peoples, which make them disappear.

The scatological stories of universalistic ideologies collide itself each other. Each one claims to be the only true discourse. The war will have no end. Or we end up with them or they end up with us. Ethnic cultures must unite, from their own cultural traditions (from their own worlds), against these destructive ideologies, against these universal threats; that are certainly the universal evil.

*Other circumstances might be, but at the present time our bad main is Islam. It is that attacks us 'now'. It is an attack, an offensive which we have on earth and in heaven (our earth and our heaven). Other peoples suffer it also. That each people face this risk with their own cultural weapons; that they retrieved it if ever lost it.

The universal Islamic offensive obliges a universal answer also. This is what universal have these moments. That Islam wants to impose on the whole world. We are all threatened by Islam. These are the moments that we are (all) live.

The 'from where' we do it is the problem; from where we face us to Islam the different peoples and cultures. I propose that we do from our respective cultures and to defend them and our lands; that we should fight against our possible demise, against our extinction; that we do it from us and for us. That it has 'will of future' into the different peoples and cultures threatened.

*I am more familiarized with Vedic arya world that with the Hindu world. I prefer the Vedic world to Hindu world. The Vedic arya world was an ethnic world; the Hindu world is a universalistic world, a later priestly reform. Had no other purpose, it seems, that the placement of the priest on the cusp of the social pyramid. It gave them the supreme power. I don't like 'revolutions' priestly Universalist: the Jewish, Christian, or Muslim, or the Hindu or the Buddhist; in each case, the various priestly caste, seeking power. The world that they imposed (mythical, allegorical, and symbolic) is a world which legitimizes the new State of affairs, which legitimizes his (ambition of) power. I can read the Mahabharata so: the Pandava is the ancient Vedic arya world and their antagonists are those that subvert (Vritra) this order (Rtá), those that deprived them of the Kingdom, the Hindu priests. The conflict between priests and the old order (arya Vedic and Iranian) is evident in the Hindu reform and reform mazdeist (that of Zarathustra) (there Indra was, literally, demonizing). What has survived of our ancient Indo-European cultures are these two priestly reforms.

Indo-European peoples have not been spared of the Universalist virus (Hinduism, Buddhism, Jainism, Mazdeism...). I remember you that pre-Buddhist Tibet is demonized (their gods, their traditions...). Buddhism is a Universalist religious ideology foreign that dominate spiritually in Tibet. There is a festivity in which Buddhist monks celebrate how expelled demons of Tibetan land, demons that are none other than the ancient Tibetan gods. This demonization of the past of the peoples is practices for all the universalistic ideologies (of Semitic or Indo-European origin). Come from where come the universalistic ideologies are a danger to all cultures or ethnic traditions.

It is say that first Manu, when he learned about the flood, built in the top of a hill a huge ship where putting all their own (the people) and everything that they could need; finished once so it tied with a long rope to a tree. When the waters came the boat climbed and climbed, but it was not drift; when waters down the boat it is posed in the same site, next to the tree. They were back at home.

In this third wave of Islam, when the wave passes, what will remain? Each people have a duty: not losing the own land conquered (in earth and heaven); to find themselves when this has passed. Have to survive the peoples; has to survive the tree of peoples and cultures of the world, which is also the tree of life, the purest tree. We have to save the home, the abode of the Parents (Pitris); we have to render decent it for the future; we, the millenarian people.

*This poor devil has achieved the opposite of what it was intended. With his criminal stupidity has become enemy of his own people, has discredited the European anti-Islamism, and has provided weapons and arguments to those that are causing the destruction of Europe, of our motherland.

With this action he has resemble to Muslim criminals, who do not hesitate to massacre (to scare, to bully, to terrify...) to their own people to obtain their ends (absolute power). Unfortunately the network is full of 'crusader' like him. All at once he has dragged us to the Middle Ages; with his language, with his speech ('de novae militiae'...); a language and a speech where the Muslims are like fish in water. That is, among other things, what this expected, plunge us into the past, lead us to his terrene. To abandon the present time; the language (political, philosophical, sociological, scientific...) of the times (in the West); the status, the socio-cultural level reached. I feel sorrow and pain for those who have come, for our children, grandchildren and heirs, because no longer can used intellectual weapons so far have protected us.

It must be borne in mind that a good part of the European anti-Islamism (and Western in general) it is more democratic than Christian.

However, he has reason, he and thousands others. I refer to their data, their statistics. They are destroying us slowly and coolly. I speak of the ineptitude of our political class in the last twenty or thirty years (left and right), and the chilling strategy of Islam, that has no other goal in our lands that the destruction of our biological being, and our cultural being (both millennial).

From our position not may feel anything but contempt and nausea by Islam as a whole (political-religious -juridical...).

The dissolution, the disappearance, the denaturalization of ancient Europe, of our Europe. Our descendants will be born in a non-European Europe, an undermined Europe. What they will think of us? The present generations, unconscious or inattentive, will be responsible for the loss of Europe.

"From outside will come who of your house will eject you", so saying a Spanish proverb. That is what is being enforced in our days in our beloved Europe.

Given the demographic evolution happening in our continent, there will be no possible anyone Reconquest. Our small numbers prevent it. We lose Europe irreversibly, the ancient Europeans. It will be our last sunset (Ragnarök). There will be no new spring or new dawn for our people; we will perish forever. Tomorrow we will be history.

Can we change this unfortunate fate? What we need? What can we do? We must be serious, grave, and truthful. We must convince our fellow citizens by means of the word; the reporting and liberating word. We must remind our common ancestral native identity and our common destiny. We need to make European proselytism in our own home, in our own land; in Europe, our sacred land. House to house, door to door. We must recover intellectual and emotionally to the Europeans for Europe, for the European cause. We must awaken to Europe; through the passion, through the love, through the tenderness. Through our kisses this, our Snow White, will wake up.

A storm sweet will be the awakening of Europe.

To the European anti-Islamist.

Manu Rodríguez. From Europe (02/09/11).

*Indeed, Islam is the most important and urgent problem facing Europe at the moment. And so far, that we fight it, we don't know but defeats.

I don't blame to the Muslims his will to power, his ambition of domain. But yes I blame to the Europeans of the present generations his stupidity, confusion, weakness, and cowardice; our decline in sum; our lack of pride and dignity. It is, perhaps, our lowest moment, and this it are well capitalizing the Muslims.

Most Europeans are unaware of what is happening, and new generations only repaired in trivialities and banalities. In Europe is not found neither aware of the real danger of disappearing (our world millennial, ourselves), nor fighting spirit. What can be the psychological motivations of our confusion and weakness; our homes, our schools, our media, our mass culture or our consumer society? This deserves self-examination. We have finished disregarding our homelands and our cultures, and always bet on the other practicing an absurd and suicidal altruism.

Deserves also an analysis the behavior of the last generations: the hedonism, the aforementioned altruism, the indifference, the anti-systems... A range of 'alternative' (of paths and ways of life) that have most of our young people completely out of the current reality of our Europe.

We should not forget the despicable behavior of our political class, mainly the left, as well as that of our progressive and multi-cultural ideologues. The maneuvers of approximation and sympathy of the hierarchies of Christian sects to Islam must be seen as a movement of calculation and strategy. Provided for, I guess, the final triumph of Islam in Europe; they advance themselves to the circumstances, they heal themselves in health.

One issue to resolve (legally and politically) is the public image in the media of the anti-Islamist (the worst): as racists, fascists, xenophobic, Islam-phobic, ultra-rights... and even undemocratic. Don't serve them our words on behalf of democracy and freedom, or in defense of our cultural values. Moreover, these media hardly give news about the detestable behavior of collective Muslims as well as his achievements (wins) in social, cultural, political and economic issues. We have to resort to blogs and pages unofficial (non-governmental) to be informed.

It also has to try from our made laws, prohibit Islam on the basis of their own programmatic texts (Qur'an, Sunna, Hadithes...). As genocidal texts, that promotes hatred and violence; legally prevented its expansion, or their proselytizing. As we do with Nazism.

Followers of the web pages, blogs or facebook anti-Islamist number is ridiculous, compared to the magnitude of the problem -a few thousand, throughout Europe. (SIOE does not reach seven thousand fans; 'Gates of Vienna' falls short of the seven hundred). In Spain we are a few hundred, I would say that everybody knows everybody.

As a counter-example, I will say that the facebook of the 'indignant' ('15 M', recent social movements of protest in my country -erratic and insubstantial in my opinion) in Spain has reached almost half million followers in a short time. These 'indignant' engaged now to prevent the arrest of drug traffickers sub-Saharan, accusing the police of racist and other, or prevent the eviction of groups of Maghreb on behalf of human rights, or solidarity with demonstrations of immigrants in Salt (town near Barcelona has 42% of population immigrant, most Muslims) with slogans such as 'Outside the fascists of Salt' (the 'Salt's fascists' are the autochthonous citizens who do not tolerate more robberies, violations, and crime in general realized for these immigrants). These absurdities are our bread every day in our European societies; these unconscious betrayal to our people, our country, and our institutions. What is happening? Perhaps, we witnessed a process of self-destruction.

We, the anti-Islamist, have not managed to create even a mass movement truly powerful and effective, and this is what we need; a movement to get faced with an element of victory to the enemies of Europe (inside and outside).

The anti-Islamist pages don't make but moving the same information each other about how bad are going the affair in a regrettable period of self-pity. It seems to please us the fall of our world; we taste in advance the end.

We need a website for the action, with activities planned, and not merely suggested; concerted actions in all of Europe, not individual or national actions. A sort of European Defense League. A demonstration in London (such as the recent in Tower Hamlets) has to be simultaneous others held in other European cities, and for the same reason. In this issue, which is vital for Europe, we have to help us with everything that happens in all European countries (including Russia and the rest of Eastern Europe). We must achieve the critical mass capable of forcing our politicians and influence in our society.

We need short texts where the distressing situation in which we find ourselves exposed clearly (data, statistics... truthful information). A minimal library of anti-Islamist texts of authors European, American and ex-Muslims (Amil Imani, Wafa Sultan, Ibn Warraq...) that people can download; an intellectual and precise guide. Literature of combat, in short.

These texts, once printed, have to be distributed free among the European public. We need young people aware of the situation, and brave, willing to this European proselytism action (on our own land). We need to recover intellectual and emotionally to new generations of Europeans. We will have to Europeanize to Europe.

We need... We need... We need everything. We need to start once, with the weapons policy, legal, social... at our disposal, to confront this monstrosity that is Islam.

An European Coalition, at all levels of anti-Islamist individuals, groups and parties. We need to make push back the enemy of our land, our culture, our everyday, of our lives, of our being. We need to overcome, and overcome; learn about the victory, know the joy of victory.

*This is what we need to tell the Muslim communities in Europe (the 'Umma' European): "Ungrateful people, undesirable people. You have received protection, care and hospitality. You have experience with democracy, surrounded by freedom and equality. And you have returned evil for good; you have bitten the hand that fed to you. Shameless people, you have seriously offended to your hosts. Is an insult your response; an insult the totalitarianism, the serfdom, and the misery that we preaches us in our own home, in Europe, which is our millennial dwelling. Despicable people, you have profaned our land sacred and have tainted our blessed institutions. We will expel you from here. Damned shall be until the end of time."

And this is what there is to say to the people of Europe: "Be Europe the cause of the Europeans of the present and future generations. Be Europe our sacred land. Be European culture our religion."

Until next time,

Manu

The Europe of the peoples. With regard to 'Berlin speech' of Mr. Geert Wilders.

Manu Rodríguez. From Europe (08/09/11).

'Berlin speech' of Mr. Wilders aims basically to two problems, the first is the danger of Islamization of Europe, the second relates to the Europeanization of our continent (and the evils that, supposedly, entails). We might think that to more Europeanization we would have less Islamization; that Europeanization could be a bulwark against the growing Islamization of our towns, cities, and Nations. But this is not the thought of Mr. Wilders. I would like to make a few remarks.

Mr. Wilders considers that the blame for what happens today has the central Government in Brussels. There is no doubt that economic policy and the regulations concerning emigration have their origin in the European Parliament. The political class of the last thirty years is that has got us in this impasse, but the solution does not consist in the dissolution of the Parliament and a back, but in taking this Parliament through the ballot box, by the democratic vote. We need a new political class, this is the case; and they will have to gain the European population.

Return to the nation-State would be a step backwards, a regression. If you are not in agreement with the economic guidelines, or any other, departing Brussels there is but one way, I repeat, to reach democratically Parliament in Brussels and change these guidelines. And this applies to all nationalist parties last minute.

Less Europe, says, and more Germany, more Holland, or more Denmark. Do believes Mr. Wilders that to return to the nation-State will solve the problems economic, political, or cultural affecting all of Europe? Do think that such return will solve the problem with the millions of Muslims foreigners that are destroying old Europe? It is not Germany or Holland which disintegrate; it is Europe as a whole, our Europe, the ancient Europe, which is in danger of disappearing (ethnically and culturally).

The lack of economic solidarity and the legislative independence that was advocated will lead us to a lack of political and military solidarity. Countries will be lost due to the increase of the Muslim population. Countries with small populations will be the first to fall: Belgium, Denmark, Sweden, Norway... even Holland. What will answer Mr. Wilders when the case arrives; will you accused them of incompetent or corrupt? Will say you that they have deserved?

In the terrible circumstances in which 'all' the peoples of Europe we are, especially with regard to Islam, what is predicated on us is 'saving themselves who can' (This boat is sinking, we leave here!); that each one solves the problem as best can. It seems improper of the stature of a statesman at European level. What is needed now is unity and solidarity -in all areas; a single front.

If we succeed this return to the nation-State would play in favor of the Muslims; those are more interested in a Europe fragmented and broken, with small isolated countries where it is easy to overcome its rate of population, and where there is no supranational entity which can go to their aid; weak, defenseless, accessible societies; pusillanimous societies easy to intimidate, and easy to conquer. It will be the beginning of the end. Furthermore, the Lebanonization in some towns and cities already is a fact (as we all know).

These Muslims foreigners are not going to respect the idea about Europe that we have the Europeans, or love that we profess it; much less going to respect our countries (the idea of France, Spain, Germany...) or cities, quarter them according to the areas of power of the new Lords. Europe will be in the hands of Asians and Africans. The old boundaries disappear. We will have a new territorial geography; new dividing lines. We will prove again the violence of the master. We will live under despots, and in the minority. In the end don't will remain not even memory of us; it will be the memory of the 'Umma' which circulates. We will be deleted from the tree of life. At the proper time we will end up extinguishing us on Earth and Heaven, as if we had never been.

Now we have to be more European than ever; Europeans of mind and heart.

What is required at the moment is a sort of 'European party identity' that ensure each one of our countries with regard to the Islamization of our beloved continent. We need to solve soon the problem of those millions of Muslims foreigners that are impoverishing us and annihilating us. It disgusts the rude and arrogant behavior of this somber 'Umma' in our own home (with their insulting and intolerable threats of conquest); and the passivity of our rulers. Sooner or later we convince us his expulsion is the only way out.

*To the Europe of nation-States we can oppose the Europe of the peoples; I am referring to the Germanic, Slavs, Celts, Balts, Latin, and Hellenes peoples; and the Finns, Hungarians, Estonians and Lapps peoples. That is, the Indo-European and non Indo-European peoples (linguistically speaking) that her populates for millennia.

Why not Europe as homeland or mother country? There is not European country that can, by itself, give account of what it means Europe. Europe is Homer, Pindar, Pythagoras, Heraclitus, Democritus, Solon, Pericles, Demosthenes, Aristotle, Archimedes, Euclides... Horace, Ovid, Virgil... Dante, Petrarch, Boccaccio, Marsilio Padua... the countless figures of the Renaissance. Copernicus, Kepler, Galileo, Descartes, Leibniz, Newton... Bach, Rembrandt, Vermeer, Shakespeare, Cervantes, Velázquez, Goya... Kant, Euler, Gauss... Goethe, Beethoven... Darwin, Mendeleiev... Pushkin, Gogol, Dostoevsky, Chekov... This concise list does not give nor remotely aware of hundreds, the thousands of figures, Patriarchs, Manes... of glorious ancestors from here and there. Musicians, painters, poets, architects, statesmen, lawyers, philosophers, physicists, mathematicians, biologists... without to forget the countless popular customs and traditions (the culture of the pig and the culture of wine, among others); all European peoples have helped make Europe what is still today. And that is our homeland, our spiritual abode; not Spain, the Netherlands, France, or Russia. This Europe is like an atmosphere which contains us and surrounds us all. We are spiritually born in this Europe. It is our most precious heritage.

For thousands of years our people born in Europe; it is our ancestral home, and we share an ancestral memory linked to this land. Our Patriarchs are not Abraham, Noah, or Muhammad, and our sacred land or holy places are not in Israel or in Arabia. We have been millennia interweaving our lives with these rivers, these forests, these mountains... Our land, Europe, is sacred. Texts such as the Iliad, the Aeneid, the Mabinogion, the Eddas, or the Kalevala are sacred. Our culture is sacred as a whole - from the Paleolithic, from the painted caves, because there are also our ancestors. Our history is sacred.

We should remind the peoples of Europe its common symbolic heritage and its common identity (ethnic and linguistic-cultural). This I call the re-Europeanization of Europe. This is the recovery of our genuine roots, which is also the recovery of dignity. A people deprived of their ancestral culture and the link with their true ancestors is a people deprived of their dignity.

Mr. Wilders is not the only one to mention the Europe's Jewish-Christian roots, but this repetitive slogan in the mouth of many of our politicians and intellectuals is an insult to Europeans. It is ignore Greeks, Romans, Germanic, Celtic, Slavs... This tradition is as strange to our genius and our land as Islam. Let's say that these two traditions cultural foreign compete for our minds and our hearts. But this is not to choose between a Jewish-Christian Europe and a Muslim Europe, but to establish once and for all a European Europe.

The so-called Christian roots of Europe are spurious roots; is a graft which has not gone well, that has been rejected. And the Christian Millennium (their centuries of power) that suffered our ancestors was a period tenebrous and bloody; it was a supreme winter ('fimbulvetr'). Europeans who today defend such roots cannot do it more than from ignorance, or the interest. The socio-cultural and socio-political status that we live today were not achieved owing to Christianity, but despite this (despite his opposition; against their will).

Do derive freedom of expression, human rights or democracy, of the Jewish-Christian tradition worth as much as to do them to derive from Islam. We owe nothing to these traditions; we do not have any debt with them. Rather they have with us, because at the time they were destroyed all our indigenous cultures.

When, in the speech of Mr. Wilders, refers to the disappearance of ancient cultures carried out by Islam in his area of domain, should also be referred to the Christianization of Europe and the destruction of the autochthonous cultures of Greeks, Romans, Celts, Germans, Slavs, Balts, and other. What we fear today with the advance of Islam in our lands, the loss of our cultural identities, we live longer when the Christianization. That was a cultural alienation, with deprivation of our genuine cultural roots. It was cruel and ruthless, and included the destruction of countless documents and monuments; we were deprived of the own memory, and were seriously insulting our ancestors... But today will be much worse, because not only we will lose our cultures, we also will lose our land.

We should not forget the God of the Old Testament, the God of armies, as eerily similar to the God of Muslims and used as a standard by all Christian sects during their periods of expansion and domination. The 'love your neighbor' is as instrument of power as 'Islam is peace'. Those expressions are like the floured little foot which looks out the wolf below the door.

The Bible and the Koran are texts deliberately ambiguous, are useful both for war and peace. The abrogation of Quran verses is a fable, or unnecessary. The violent concluding passages don't abrogate of the beginning, relatively peaceful, nor does the message of peace from the New Testament abrogate the violence of the Old. Therefore it is not that. Christian and Muslim clerics know extract every moment of their 'holy books' passages needing to enrage or to appease his followers; passages for the hatred and love. When is required will be used passages to incite to their believers the hatred or persecution of the other (Jewish, Christian, Muslim, Pagan or infidel), or to legitimize repression, war and violence, and to promote peaceful dialogue with other faiths and cultures. Muslims use the peaceful passages in state of weakness, when they are minority and want to be accepted by an environment that is suspicious of them (and with good reason); when the moment is ripe to them using violent passages. And in the same way behaved Christians in Rome, until that they reached the power. What can we say about Islam we speak also of Christianity, they are the same evil; I refer to the history. See Christian sources since its irruption in Europe; his speeches, his sermons, his rhetoric through the centuries here and there in the most varied circumstances.

Christians and Muslims have dominated almost the entire planet. They have it divided and faced. It's a crazy. What we have with one and other is a pan-Judaism and a pan-Arabism mutually exclusive. One and others have the impudence of to conceptualize the pre-Christians or pre-Islamic times of the peoples diverse as it was the time of darkness and sin, or ignorance. They are the saviors, and come to get rid us of sin and ignorance. Both lie repugnantly, because they do not seek but our destruction, the destruction of our ancestral memory, of our ancient being. It's the destruction of our heavens, and the imposition of their own. The strategy is to expel our worlds of our heads to put theirs. They are as the cuckoo. We are dealing with impostors and usurpers; with tricksters. Peoples Christianized or Islamized of the planet have to the ancestors, history, or the land of Israel (Jerusalem) or of Islamic Arabia (Mecca) as sacred, ignoring or underrating to their own ancestors, their own traditions and their own land (by way of example, Salaphists of anywhere (of Indonesia to Morocco) did not go beyond the times of Muhammad). And this happens in Europe, in Asia, in Africa, in the Americas... everywhere. It is a spiritual and cultural alienation on a large scale. Both traditions (the Christian and Muslim) have to their own count the destruction or defacement of countless cultures. It is a cultural genocide on a planetary scale; multitude of peoples and cultures pulled up of the tree of the peoples and cultures of the world and thrown to death and oblivion, as if they had never been; thousands of years of stories, of words, of life. The past of peoples and the link with their true ancestors refused, censured, hidden, disfigured, broken... And both traditions remain unpunished until now of such crime.

De profundis.

Manu Rodríguez. From Europe (04/10/11).

*Dear Alba, long I'm not writing. I really have nothing to tell you, nothing new would like to say. Denaturalization of Europe continues to gigantic steps. Soon we will not be. The Europe that we inherit will be gone. I'm desolate.

Brussels, the headquarters of the European Government and administrative capital of Europe, in a few years it will be almost in its entirety a city populated by Muslims foreigners. I don't know what sense will have then there such Government and such capital.

In France, in Germany, in England... on all side. Numerous Europeans cities inhabited by foreign peoples where (Muslim) foreign laws apply. Europeans may not even pass through these areas. We give and give again and again, and lose European land in each assignment. It is crazy what is happening. It is the destruction of Europe. Assignments are defeats, understand this, and loss of territory.

There is no attachment or love for Europe in our current rulers, nor in most of our population; neither pride or dignity; neither conscience clear of what is happening.

The (relative) success of the Pirate Party in the last regional elections in Berlin denotes well clearly the high degree of idiocy and spiritual ruin that we are reaching in our Europe. Certain sectors of our young people are more concerned about download free things Internet that for the present and the future of their country.

A few days ago (shortly before the elections), in the same Berlin, three Muslim immigrants of Turkish origin caused a fatal accident at the exit of the metro chasing a young man who had been previously intimidated; the young man, fleeing from his pursuers, dared to cross a great Avenue at the time in which it was open to traffic, and a vehicle struck him fatally. It is another death in vain, as the other violations, robberies, murders, or outrage committed by these foreigners to our people.

Do not affect these serious everyday events to these members of our society, have no weight whatsoever in their dreams and reflections, do not seem to be sensitive to these horrible social facts. No, do them not think this death, nor the problem of Islam (the 'umma') in our land, or the 'no-go' areas, nor the application of Sharia law in these areas; neither fascism and racism practiced by these hordes of Asian and African Muslims against us, ancient Europeans, here, in our own land; or loss of identity of our peoples and cities (Berlin is already a Turkish city, some say). No, none of this worries in the slightest to these shoots of our being. What it has been passed? What is happening?

The harassment suffered by young Europeans by pandas of aliens Muslims is current in our cities; it is the latest craze among Muslims groups across Europe, the hunting of the white, of the 'petits fromages', of the 'pork-eaters'; of the natives, of non-Muslims, of others.

Harassment, intimidation, the arms of the 'umma'. Intimidate, marginalizing the indigenous villagers; done with the street, with the neighborhood, with the city. Are happen us as with these dogs that smell the fear; that it become more daring and violent ever; ever more and more owners of the house.

We have become a cowardly people, in a village of lambs. Our discourse is the discourse of weakness, insecurity, and cowardice. This my people castrated.

Switzerland Muslim emigration wants to change the flag of this country, because the cross it carries, they say, are 'offended' them and not already represents non-Christians the current population and its components. What we have with this emigration, with these unwanted and undesirable guests, becomes more daring, more arrogant and more rudeness; in our own land. I don't know how consent them. No doubt that we lack of pride and dignity. It is permanent humiliations that we suffer with insolent demands of collective Muslims in our own home.

Saudi Arabia, a country that prohibits, chases, and condemns the practice of any religion/culture that is not Muslim, created and financed in its entirety an interfaith and inter-cultural centre in Austria. Preventing and moderating conflicts and consolidating peace, they say. The news seems lie, but it is not. It will have a Council of representatives of the Jewish, Christian, Muslim, Hindu and Buddhist religions. The Center will bear the name of its originator and promoter, Saudi King Abdallah, and will also be co-sponsored by Austria and Spain. We have lost the light, we have become clumsy and blind creatures; perfect victims of the most coarse tricksters in the most crude scams. Muslims are least able to talk of harmony and peace between cultures or religions. Imagine what would have happened if a monarch or Chief of European State he had intended to open a similar centre in Arabia. "Go you to your house, and you open this Center in your country, that it need well", this is what is you should have answered at the time.

The President of the United Nations, Ban Ki-Moon warns about the danger of growing Islamophobe in Europe. With those words they censored and stigmatized publicly, therefore, the firsts attempts of resistance to Islamization (demographic and cultural) of our beloved continent; and the hostile presence to the Europeans of the more than fifty million Asian and African Muslims in our lands is, as usual, ignored. For him there is no the "Europhobe" deployed by Muslims (the 'umma') in Europe itself, which declare openly and explicitly, in the street, in his centers of worship (and indoctrination), in Internet... everywhere, its intention to destroy our cultural traditions (political, legal, culinary, esthetics...); to destroy us even to ourselves.

Turkish President Abdullah Gül is also very concerned by the refusal of Europeans to the mass Muslim immigration (legal and illegal), and warns that "Europe will be compelled to receive more emigrants and to be 'more diverse'...". It is still too European, it seems. This means the ancestral Europe will be forced to be another, this is, will be forced to disappear. There is distorting still further, until to put an end with her. Can we suggest it that also Iran, Arabia, or Turkey are 'more diverse'; or China, or Japan...? This warning, which seems to have the general approval, is not only manifestly absurd, is also a threat, and a criminal proposition; it is a proposal for bio-cultural genocide directed against our people and our cultural traditions all. It is the method faster to do away with ancient peoples and cultures. It is a weapon this emigration, this massive migratory flow towards our lands. Those who are using it in Europe are familiarized with their destructive effects; they know very well what they are doing.

Is the disappearance of European Europe that is pursued; it aims to achieve an African and Asian Europe. Change the European population. That disappear the ethnic substratum that inhabits it for millennia; that we disappear -our genius, our race.

Our Europe, our sacred land, the land of our ancestors, our motherland; the natural and spiritual mother of all Europeans; our sacred history, our religion (our culture)... We ourselves, the europides, the children of Europe; our ancient lineage. All this is what are going to disappear.

So that this monstrous project have succeed must be previously weaken 'immune system' of the original inhabitants (the ancestral link residents with telluric and cultural roots -land, ancestors; their patriotism, their national pride, their self-esteem), as well as their most basic survival instincts, in such a way that they just opposed resistance to their destruction; the destruction his natural being and its cultural being. And this seems to be the followed strategy -by some indigenous (consciously or unconsciously) and by invaders (the millions of Asian and African Muslims in our lands, that expect only the time).

Deteriorate, undermining the foundations of our being symbolic (cultural), our being European; our character, the nature of our peoples and Nations; of our history, our ancestors, of our cultural achievements of all. This has been the work of the media, of our intellectuals, of the progressive parties... in these last decades. And it is an attitude which, as expected, it has spread much of our citizens. The censorship and the mockery of the own culture, the depreciation of our being; it is a collective debasement. I don't think there were ever a people and a culture that refused both to themselves. It is a social pathology. It is a process of autolysis, of apoptosis. It is a widespread cultural suicide; a brutal symptom of decay. It is a people that is removed from the midst himself, who leaves, which gives his place. The invaders have half winning the war.

Oh, my Alba! What is expected in Europe to react? Do we expect? A few years and degradation will be irreversible; it will be the effective start of the countdown. We will lose our land; our heaven will be destroyed. What should do, you and me, then; where we will go?

Private of memory our scarce heirs (with a memory provided, others, as we already did when the Christianization of our peoples, thousand six hundred years ago), for the second time in our history culturally alienated; where they had go this time, what will be of them?

We had reborn after first alienation, after that Supreme winter; we can recover our spirit; we were a new people with a future. Nothing seemed to indicate in the fifties and sixties years of the last century what was to come: the Muslim flood; the emergence of the dark 'umma' in our home. No one imagined it, no one expected it. We were not prepared. Recent years have been for us the laughter, the mockery, irony, cynicism... 'playful' years. As the 'umma' grew. Our present, however, is a nightmare, and foreshadows us the more bleak future.

If the 'umma' conquer and prevail in Europe, did not survive, we, the European millenarian, to this new Supreme winter. We would not be before a single cultural alienation (a process of acculturation and enculturation similar to the old Christianization) that it is always possible to liberate us, this time we would be also dispossessed of the land. This time it would lose everything. It would be our last twilight. There would be no more dawn for our people; we would extinguish us slowly. If such case were to occur, it would truly be the end, our end.

Urgent desiderate.

*We need mass media (radio, press, television) from where to spread our Europeanisms and our opposition to the Islamization (ideological and demographic) of our countries. We need an organization at European level; unify the European anti-Islamism; create a mass movement at European to press politically and socially, it influences the state of affairs. We cannot disappear. We have to propagate us, we need to grow; we must overcome this phase, this level.

We need to go to the heart and minds of Europeans (of Europe). We have to create a stream of opinion enough strong to influence the progress of things and stop what appears to be inevitable. We have everything against: the indifference of the population, the bad opinion that about us disseminate the means of communication... Will we succeed it yet; will we defeat?

It is time for propaganda: posters, pins, stickers, anti-Islamic objects...; brochures, pamphlets, placards; in the network and on the street. Everyone can design small posters from which refer to the citizen to certain websites, blogs or facebook with information about us and what we denounce. We advertise in these posters and focus the attention of the reader towards the Fjordman file, Brussels Journal, Riposte Laique, Gates of Vienna, or Ibn Warraq and Wafa Sultan... and other prominent anti-Islamic pages; that it circulate everywhere on the internet. We can also print them and leave them in cafes, bookshops, stores of album... at friend's places. We are not alone. We could adopt anti-Islamic badges that we could fasten in our lapels. Clearly, giving the face. Here we are.

Now we live underground, away from light. With our public image vilified and distorted by the media of communication. The first thing is to clean up our image. From now we will be creators of our image; and this will be quite different than the one that broadcast media, and more realistic. We are now in the evening before the dawn. But now comes the day, our day, the day of recognition. There will be light for everyone, and it will be possible to build another future; we will spoil the ambitious plans of the invaders, we will expel them from here. We will recover Europe.

But first we have to recover the Europeans. We need to be recognized by Europeans. We are not fascist, not xenophobic; we are not killers. We are not any threatening totalitarianism. No one should fear anything of us. We did not bring the sword, but the pen.

Information, culture, is essential for our members. We love the wisdom and knowledge. Most of the opposition to Islam in Europe, and the rest of the world, it is precisely by his knowledge. We are warriors of the word; our weapon is the true word, the truthful information.

We condemn totalitarianism, a horror that beckons us. We speak of Islamofascism in Europe and throughout the world; about its demographic (the 'umma') and cultural (sharia, law) expansion, and its effect on Europe in the short, medium, long term.

Do not have (our texts have no) other intention than to liven up our compatriots; that it met our speech, our voice. Win your mind and your heart will be our first task. If succeed it will be our first victory, and as an aurora will announce our day.

We come to give strength, firmness, and security, to the lax, to the undecided, to the embarrassed; that not desist, that not resigned, that not leave; that they are not alone; that there is opposition to the state of affairs in this regard; that have texts and videos which shall inform them clearly; that they have of people, of similar.

We also denounce the false heroes, and counterfeiter -the distant causes; to the left collaborators; to the cowardly, to the hypocrites, to the self-seeking; to the useful cretins of all our cities; to the 'antifas', the false anti-fascists.

We are the only anti-fascist that is possible to find today in Europe. To make it clear this. And we face openly to a totalitarian ideology religious-politic-juridical... which thrives increasingly on our lands. It is a multiple-headed dragon, a monster; an ideological monstrosity that threatens to engulf us all, which has the iron will that his face is the only face of the planet, and aims to achieve this by all means at its disposal. I speak of the greedy 'umma', their programmatic texts, and their somber god.

It is necessary to inform Europeans of what really happens. While they are on anything else, others destabilize them. They are out of the reality. Oh, these Europeans! Always in the distant, on the other; always away from home. They look not at what they have to look at what is happening at home and in their land. Gaining ground every day these visitors, these foreigners; these intruders. The neglected house; this is what they find.

In our own land the 'umma' struggle and competes with us, Europeans, and achieves victories. They challenge us in our own home. People coming from outside. They threatened us, intimidated us. They eat us the ground, tread us feet. They want to finish with us (demographically and culturally) these miserable; they want that we are not. They want to keep with our cities, our villages, our lands. The complete legacy of our ancestors will be in their hands; our collective ancestral memory. Our life and our being will remain in his hands.

We are fighting against evil, against our evil; against those who hurt us (on earth and in heaven –up and down). With this struggle we preserve our being, we defend our lands and our heaven (our cultures, our symbolic worlds all).

Europeans must know what they face. Expect us death and oblivion, if doing nothing. We ventured to extinction. It is a war for survival and dominance in our own land that we live. If we lose, we lose life; we disappear. Every day the 'umma' is growing in population, strength, and power; every day more numerous and more powerful. They will impose on us. We can extinguish, if anything we do. We would be the last generations of ancient Europeans. We played the life, we played the being.

It is not necessary that they surpass us in number. In the early 8th century Spain two great battles were sufficient to gain territory and impose on a defenseless and scared population. It is assumed that they not were more of one hundred thousand the number of Muslims aliens in the territory of the Iberian Peninsula (in an eight or ten million population) over his period of domain, and our Reconquista. A powerful army (an abundant number of soldiers) and the systematic use of force and violence were sufficient, and consciousness (or belief) of the submitted of to be in front an imperialist power endowed with innumerable armed contingents on the other side of the Strait.

Today is another the case; there are already millions the intruders (Africans and Asians) who roam Europe eager to the plundering of the rich loot that awaits them; to them, or their descendants. We will be able by force and violence which in turn will exert; when they can. They must only have patience: one, two, three... generations.

We need to revive the European fire, and this has to be only through the word. That fire is the heat and the light of the Europeans; it is the genius of Europe. It is require the alight word of Orpheus, capable get moving trees and soften rocks... Enliven, ignite; move, remove; illuminate, clarify... unveil.

This is the work that is still to be done to the European anti-Islamic; at manner of those 'masters of the truth' of the archaic Greece. It is the militant Athena, Athena Promachos; armed and ready for battle. We need to be armed, armed of knowledge and truth.

The Roman legacy.

Manu Rodríguez. From Europe (27/12/11).

*Rome not only opened the doors of Europe the Greek brothers, also to the Syrians, and the Phoenicians, and Jews, and the Persians, and to the Egyptians... It was a flood, a deluge of Eastern cults. Finally, nothing is saved -because we were not anchored to anything firm. Uprooted, we wended -after a process of self-destruction that had even corroded our same roots, our same fundamentals (philosophers cynics, skeptics or stoics are attributed this 'merit'). We would, therefore, adrift, without north; a wind without north. We are at the mercy of anyone, of any devil ready. And that's what happened to us, a ready devil caught us, and we held in his cave for more than a thousand five hundred years.

In any way we needed any morality or Eastern cult. The European natives ('indigenae' -born of the interior) had their own gods ('indigetes' -divinities of the interior), i.e., its own laws, its own rules, their own morale. We were good. They were the treasures of the families, the ancestral legacy; while they maintained alive, nothing bad could happen us.

Contempt for such symbolic keys was the beginning of our decline and ruin; negligence, neglect of our being. We should be that strong. On the other hand to warn our lightness in detach ourselves from what we most worth; our foolishness, our decline, our weakness. We disappoint our Fathers -are in the heavens. We were perfidious, infidels; unfair.

Anyone who abandons his people, his motherland, is a bastard; who that defect of the Fathers and its legacy. These are the true stateless -no homeland, no Fathers-, and the only infidels. But such was, precisely, our behavior. That was what they did, to force or degree, all our ancestors: the Romans, Greeks, Germans, Celts, the Slaves... All neglected Fathers (when the fateful Christianization of Europe). I speak of our ancestors. About us lies this fault, such error, such treason.

We, the present generations of Europeans, have to repair such treachery, such disloyalty. Retrieve the thread with our ancestors. Recover the legacy; return to give life.

*Behold what we lost, what we throw overboard, what we disesteem. I speak of the genius of Rome, of its being and its evolution; a living branch of the Indo-European tree; that has not perished. His success and his failure we must learn all. They were successful as long as they held high its hallmarks, what had done them forts; their ethical key, its moral already public, already familiar.

Symbolic keys that then you expose them you can consult the World Historical Atlas of Hermann Kinder and Werner Hilgemann, on page 88 (Rome. Social organization. Religion...). They are slogans that provide strength, and determination, and moral courage. They were weapons which we could then use and we do not use, and which we can use now. We are still in time. It is time to recover that which strengthens us and says.

Let's see if those keys are still valid. What follows is a summary of the found there.

Preservation ('discipline potestas') of the order domestic or family is carried out by the father (both parents say today without objection) through the Authority ('sapientia'), maturity of judgement ('consilium') and integrity ('probitas'). The circumspection ('diligentia'), rigour ('severitas'), and self-control ('continentia', and 'temperantia') define the solemn character ('gravitas') for their actions, which is acquired by industry ('industria') and tenacity ('constantia'). The offspring was educated in the example of the elders ('mos maiorum'). Humility ('modestia') and veneration ('reverentia') are the virtues that should preside over the relationship of the young generation with the highest; young people are required, in addition, obedience ('obsequium'), respect ('verecundia'), and purity ('pudicitia', 'integritas morum').

With regard to the formation of the citizen that is what he says. The value ('virtus'), the independence of judgment and action ('libertas'), the glory, devotion ('pietas'), fidelity or reliability ('fides') and decorum in public life ('dignitas') are the virtues of the ideal Roman citizen, that it should be at the service of the Community ('res publica') in order to contribute to the greater power and greatness of its people ('maiestas populi romani'). The common good is the highest law ('salus populi supreme lex').

Readers will also recommend the reading of the treaty 'De officiis' (on obligations or duties), of Cicero.

Each of these Latin terms has a semantic broader field that expresses the translation (copy of the original). The 'auctoritas' had the sense of moral prestige, such as when we say "so-and-so is an authority on this or that science or branch of knowledge". The 'sapientia' is both the wisdom, knowledge, and intelligence, sanity. The 'pietas' is the devotion which we owe to the Manes, fathers, elders ('mos maiorum'); to the 'res publica', to the motherland. ('Sacrae patria deserere' and 'deserere patriam', were Roman expressions that designating the fathers neglect (desertion) and the adoption of a religion (religion) another). The 'glory' is precisely the reputation, good reputation, the renown; achieve the general and public honor after a 'cursus honorum' full of merits -in the service of my people, to the greatest honor of my people.

These values can be raise high today with all dignity, without any demerit.

I remind my fellow citizens this past history of our, because at the present moment Europe run a risk similar to that of the loss of the ancient world. This time will be much worse because it is people foreign and alien to our being which we dominate. That was a purely ideological domination; this will be also a demographic dominance. The 'umma' (the crowd of Asian and African Muslims that flooded us) exceed us. We will be at a clear disadvantage -on earth and in heaven.

*The decline is shown well soon in Greece (since the Alexandrian period) and Rome (since the Carthaginian wars) -corruption, despotism, injustice, immorality, the perfidy... in all areas of life. In the Roman case it warned Polybius, and Cicero, Columela, and Sallust, and Tacit... and Persius, and Juvenal. All warned and denounced him. "Back to the sources, Roman, returns to the fathers; purify yourself and recover the aura, the prestige ('auctoritas'), the majesty." But it was all in vain. It still resound the echo of that failure.

No, were not strange cults, were not the Jews or Christians; were not the barbarian... We were us, our indifference and our nihilism, the cause of our destruction. There lies our weakness. We were not equal. We failed to respond adequately to the Christian apologetics, for example. There was no any Demosthenes, any Cicero in the early Christian centuries; we dedicate us to destroy our foundations (as I mentioned at the beginning). Philosophical schools have provided arguments Christian propagandists (our criticism to our gods, to our traditions and customs, to our values). We weakened security and confidence in ourselves; in our science, in our knowledge, in our power. Soon it was work to be done to the future Lords of Europe.

Not you sound this story, European? Examine our case, the current times. Not we have been more than two centuries self-destroying us? What results we get from our current nihilism; of our skepticism, of our relativism, of our political, moral, cultural indifference; from our deep distaste? We repeat the story. We again make the same mistakes. Again, therefore, we will be defeated.

I wished all European a happy gentiles holidays and a true new year.

Until next time,

Manu
